Air Marshal C.R. Dunlap Succeeds Slemon

Defence Command — defending North America against attack.

Air Marshal Dunlap was born in Sydney Mines, Nova Scotia, Jan. 1, 1906. He attended Acadia University and the Nova Scotia Technical College, then joined the RCAF in 1928.

He was commissioned in the rank of pilot officer on appointment and won his pilot wings the following year.

For a number of years prior to World War II he was engaged in the RCAF's aerial photography work. Later, he specialized in air armament and attended courses in Britain. When war broke out in 1939 he was director of armament at Air Force Headquarters, Ottawa.

Late in 1942 he was assigned as commanding officer of an RCAF bomber base at Leeming, Yorkshire, England, one of several in the famed all-Canadian No. 6 Bomber Group. Several weeks before the Sicilian campaign in 1943 he was named to command a bomber wing of three Wellington squadrons in North Africa and establish RCAF bases in Tunisia.

For the notable successes of his wing in carrying out strategic and tactical bombing missions in Sicily, Italy and Sardinia, he received special commendation from Air Chief Marshal Tedder of the Royal Air Force and General Doolittle.

He returned to Britain to command a medium bomber squadron on daylight operations, as part of the newly-formed 2nd Tactical Air Force. He flew 35 missions while commanding the wing which scored outstanding successes against German V-1 and V-2 sites and operated in support of Allied ground forces.

He was awarded the U.S. Silver Star for gallantry in action in support of American ground forces.

In January 1945, he was promoted to the rank of air commodore and named to command another No. 6 Bomber Group base, at Middleton St. George in Yorkshire.

He returned to Canada a few months later to become deputy air member for Air Staff at Air Force Headquarters. In 1946 he represented the RCAF at the Bikini Atoll atomic bomb tests.

The following year he attended the one-year course at the U.S. National War College and returned to Ottawa as air member for Air Plans in October 1948.

A year later he was assigned as air officer commanding Northwest Air Command headquarters at Edmonton, Alberta. He held this position until June 1951 when he was named to head the RCAF Air Defence Command at St. Hubert, Quebec.

In August 1951 he was named commander of the National Defence College, Kingston, Ontario, a post he held until August 1954 when he became vice chief of the air staff. In June 1956 he was assigned to Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) in Paris, as deputy chief of staff for operations with simultaneous promotion to air marshal.

He later was appointed SHAPE's assistant chief of staff.

Air Marshal Dunlap was named by Canada's defence minister as chief of the air staff in April 1962. He assumed the position in September of that year and will relinquish it this summer to become number two man in the defence of North America.

ships, repression and authoritarian control," the conference said.

The Methodist stand was contained in a report submitted by the church's Committee on Social Concerns.

Another segment of the report labelled military spending "a drain on the economy." "It does not stimulate in the most constructive way the economies of the nation. It tends to distort research and deter expansion in the civilian sectors of most economies. It is wasteful of man's energies," the report contended.

The conference devoted about five hours Thursday night to administrative and organizational affairs. It adjourned without taking up church-state relations and disciplinary action against ministers who fail to adhere to church policy in racial matters.

Russia Still Has Strong Forces in Castro's Cuba

The Soviet had upwards of 28,000 fighting men in Cuba.

DETAILED BREAKDOWN

Two significant facts are cited by DIA in substantiation of its 14,500 troop estimate.

A number of Russian generals are still in Cuba — deemed conclusive evidence of the presence of a large force. DIA knows the identity of these commanding officers.

Commands in Russian are still heard on radar control systems and at SA-2 missile sites — positive proof that these numerous units and installations are still manned by Soviet personnel.

The DIA estimate compares present Russian strength with that in October-November 1962 as follows:

	October, 1962	November, 1962
Four motorized rifle divisions	10,000	10,000
Two missile divisions	10,000	10,000
Two tank divisions	10,000	10,000
Two heavy artillery divisions	10,000	10,000
Two engineering divisions	10,000	10,000
Two medical divisions	10,000	10,000
Two transport divisions	10,000	10,000
Two construction divisions	10,000	10,000
Two maintenance divisions	10,000	10,000
Two other divisions	10,000	10,000
Total	145,000	145,000

The DIA also reports that Soviet technicians and specialists are in full control of 12 coastal missile stations now guarding crucial sea approaches. These powerful installations would be a serious threat to an attacking amphibious force. They would have to be knocked out before such an assault could be attempted.

In recent weeks the Russians have withdrawn what U.S. experts characterize as "experimental" SA-3 and SA-4 missiles and their operating units.

However, two important points are noted: (1) These withdrawals in no way reduce the tremendous overall strength of the anti-aircraft forces; (2) there is no concrete evidence of the whereabouts of the SA-3 and SA-4 missiles.

Only positive information in DIA hands is photographs obtained by U-2 reconnaissance flights showing that two of the "experimental" missiles, with their radar equipment have disappeared from their sites, and a statement Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin reportedly made to Ambassador Llewellyn

Thompson, State Department expert on Russia, that these missiles have been withdrawn.

Dobrynin implied the missiles had been shipped back to Russia.

But DIA experts stress there is no photographic evidence of that, also that it would be very possible to hide these missiles in the caves that abound in Cuba, and where large stores of all types of weapons are known to be stored.

The U.S. now averages only three or four reconnaissance flights a month in the Cuban area. These flights are at heights that cannot be reached by the SA-2 missile. Also, they are not directly over Cuba. Instead, they are off the Cuban coast.

The reconnaissance planes are equipped with new-type cameras capable of taking detailed pictures across the island. No low-level flights are made, except by naval planes outside of Cuban waters over incoming and outgoing ships.

NEW JOHNSON MEN

White House insiders say that a long-time Texas friend of the President will be the next attorney general — when Robert Kennedy steps out, and if the President is re-elected. The backstage choice is Leon Jaworski, Houston attorney, former president of the Texas Bar and an Army prosecutor, at the Nuremberg war criminal trials.

Garner Ackley, 48-year-old former head of the economics department of the University of Michigan, is slated to succeed Walter Heller as chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers when he departs later this year. Ackley, named to the CEA in 1962, is highly regarded by President Johnson. Most likely successor to Lawrence O'Brien, close aide of the late President Kennedy and chief of White House liaison with Congress, is Deputy Undersecretary of the Army Harry McPherson, Jr. He has long been on close terms with President Johnson, who entertained the McPhersons at a White House dinner recently.

Federal Plans To Aid Poverty, Coal Man Says

WASHINGTON — A Wyoming coal man charged today that the Administration is planning to undercut its own war on poverty by flooding his area with public power which would displace 2,225,000 tons of coal production a year.

G. E. Sorensen, president of The Kemmerer Coal Co., Frontier, Wyo., said a proposed extra high voltage transmission line from the Bonneville Power Administration to southeastern Idaho would "force this area into a deeper pocket of poverty."

Sorensen, in testimony prepared for a House Appropriations subcommittee, said his firm has dedicated 30 million tons of subbituminous coal to meet all the fuel requirements of a new Utah Power & Light Co. plant at Kemmerer, Wyo. The plant is already consuming 600,000 tons a year and is expected to expand its demand greatly.

Extending the Bonneville Power Administration marketing area to dump one million kilowatts into the Kemmerer plant's service area "could dilute the amount of coal consumed in the area by 2,250,000 tons per year and would materially hinder the development of the coal deposit in the Kemmerer area," Sorensen said.

He said loss of this much coal production would mean an annual loss of nearly $2,615,000 in mine payroll, an annual reduction of $2,025,000 in mine supplies purchased in the immediate area of Wyoming, Idaho and Utah, a possible annual reduction of $250,000 in state and local taxes, and a loss of $890,000 a year in payments to the United Mine Workers of America Health, Welfare and Retirement Fund.

All four strikes were unauthorized, union officials said, and in defiance of a 10-day restraining order prohibiting walkouts issued Tuesday in Washington by Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

First Colorado Tick Fever Cases Reported

the department's Epidemiology Section, said.

Last year, the first case of Colorado tick fever was reported in February.

"The ticks apparently are hatching late this spring," Dr. Molloy said. "We've found that the wetter the spring, the more abundant the ticks. They need moisture to hatch and develop, and we haven't had a great deal of moisture this year."

A total of 132 cases of Colorado tick fever and four cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever occurred in the state in 1963.

Both diseases are transmitted by the same wood ticks, but Colorado tick fever is the more common and less serious disease. It is a virus disease, characterized by a sudden headache, chills, sensations, moderate to severe low back pains, and fever four to five days after exposure. The patient usually recovers spontaneously within a few days. Sometimes the cases are mistaken for influenza. So far, no treatment has been found effective against Colorado tick fever, and no vaccine is available to fight the disease.

The best protection against the disease, according to Dr. Molloy, is to wear protective clothing in mountainous, wooded and brushy areas, where ticks abound, and to search the body regularly and get the ticks off before they attach.

It was not clear whether this meant the Soviet government would increase the 1961 arms deal which provided Indonesia with $1 billion in modern Soviet weapons, including jet fighters and missiles.

U.S. Attaches in Russia Say They Were Drugged

Marine Lt. Col. James M. Landrigan.

A third American who said he was drugged, U.S. Navy Cmdr. Sumner Spairon, remained on duty in Moscow.

The embassy disclosed Thursday night that it had protested to the Soviet government that the three officers were drugged March 25 while on a trip to the Black Sea port of Odessa, where American ships have been docked with wheat shipments.

The British Foreign Office announced that an assistant British naval attaché, Lt. Cmdr. John Harvey-Samuel, was with the Americans and also was drugged. The British joined in the American protest.

British sources said Harvey-Samuel and his wife also had left Moscow, for Warsaw but the sources said they left their year-old son with his English nurse and would return.

The attaches reported they felt unusually drowsy after dinner. The State Department said medical tests showed the men had been given enough barbiturates to cause drowsiness. They suffered no physical harm, however, the department said.

U.S. officials said they did not know of any theft of documents or attempts to compromise the attaches while they were asleep in their hotel rooms.

Last February, two U.S. naval attaches were harassed by a mob in Leningrad. In March, two U.S. Air Force attaches and a British air force attaché were surrounded by a mob in Tula. These incidents also were protested, and a U.S. Embassy spokesman said the embassy suspected both mobs were "inspired" by Soviet officials.

Soviets Promise Help For Indonesian War

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia, which has built the mightiest war machine in Southeast Asia with Soviet aid, has a new promise of Soviet help in its drive to crush Malaysia.

The official news agency Antara said today Soviet Ambassador N. A. Michailov promised "the Soviet government will keep on helping the Indonesian people in their campaign to crush the neo-colonialist project of Malaysia."

"The Soviet support to the Indonesian struggle is concrete and not merely in words," Michailov said.

It was not clear whether this meant the Soviet government would increase the 1961 arms deal which provided Indonesia with $1 billion in modern Soviet weapons, including jet fighters and missiles.

YOUTH WINS SECOND — David L. Morreale, 15, won second place in the Optimist International 25th District Oratorical Contest held May 2 in Denver. Johnson Urges Race Peace on Deep South Tour until all of us are fully free. And the rights of no single American are truly secure until the rights of all Americans are secure."

Johnson said that "racial problems have deep roots in Southern soil." However, he emphasized his view that such problems are not peculiar to any single section, saying, "They also trouble the passions of men on the shores of Maryland, in the slums of Philadelphia and in the streets of New York."

Actually, he took a hopeful view of the tribulations of the South, with these words: "We may well find racial peace in much of the South before the end of racial strife in the cities of the North."

He added that Georgians helped write the Constitution and have fought and died to protect it.

"I believe," he said, "Georgia will join with the entire nation to ensure that every man enjoys all the rights secured him by that American Constitution."

Johnson also appealed for rejection of extremism. Conjuring memories of the Civil War, he said:

"Heed not those who come waving the tattered and discredited banners of the past—who seek to stir old hostilities and kindle old hatreds—who preach battle between neighbors and bitterness between states. That is the way back toward the anguish from which we came."

The President, covering considerable ground in 2,400 words, even made indirect reference to his own unannounced but obvious plans to seek election to a four-year term in November.

Declaring that "we are today one nation, one people, one America," Johnson said: "I would not be looking forward to November, were this not true. And I am looking forward to November."

In his swift passage Thursday through Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee and North Carolina, Johnson also made clear his zest for his job and his hope of retaining it.

This was most clear in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., when he coupled an appeal for support of his antipoverty program with jobs at two Republican jobs may try to get his job in the fall—former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Johnson said Republicans already are calling his antipoverty proposals a "cruel hoax"—words used last week by Nixon. And he said that if such men had their way, "The 'for sale' sign would be on TVA this very hour." It was Goldwater who once suggested that the Tennessee Valley Authority be put up for sale.

The sharpest jabs, included in Johnson's prepared text, were omitted in delivery. But the traveling White House said he stood by them.

In these passages, he labeled "cruel hoax" critics and those who would sell TVA as "men of timid faith and narrow vision."

And he added: "I do not believe you want to entrust the American dream to men who would turn it into a nightmare."

In Atlanta and half a dozen other cities in Appalachia and the South, cheering thousands turned out to greet the President. Total official estimates of the crowds along the way came to nearly half a million.

Whatever the number, and official estimates often get inflated, the number was impressive. For his address to the men who make the laws of Georgia, Johnson obviously sought to make his remarks the more acceptable by linking them to the state's motto—wisdom, justice, moderation.

He cited justice in talking about civil rights. He cited wisdom in urging the rejection of extremism. And he cited moderation in touching on the problems of poverty, urban expansion and conservation.

On the latter point, Johnson said: "To meet such problems, in such a varied and ample land as ours, bold action requires broad agreement—and consensus requires moderation."

Recalling Georgian Henry Grady's 1886 prophecy of a "New South," Johnson said Grady's words not long ago "seemed less a hopeful prophecy than a hollow promise."

Alluding to the aftermath of the Civil War, the President continued: "Old ways had crumbled—carrying with them that which was fine as well as that which was flawed—replaced by a blighted land and a bitter people."

Today, he said, "we see a New South—a South of union and freedom."

"You bear the mark of a grandeur of our future."

Fountain Valley Host to Schools In Association

The Fountain Valley School will be host to the other seven schools which are members of the Association of Colorado Independent Schools Saturday for their annual Literary Colloquium.

These schools are Colorado Academy, Denver Country Day School, Graland, the Kent School and Randall in Denver, the Colorado Rocky Mountain School in Carbondale and the Whiteman School in Steamboat Springs.

An all day program is planned at 10 a.m. "Judas Goat," a play by John Barlow, a Fountain Valley Fifth Former will be presented in the auditorium. This will be followed by the Colloquium which this year has as its topic, "Change in Modern Expression."

The discussion will be directed by a panel of three: Peter Davison of Boston, a graduate of Fountain Valley in 1945, a poet and now executive editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press; Carl Jonas, a distinguished author from Omaha, Nebraska; and Miss Mary Ann Chenoweth, well-known Colorado Springs artist.

The moderator will be Charles F. Emery, Jr., Fountain Valley '38 and now a member of the English Department.

After lunch in the Hacienda patio, there will be an afternoon seminar in which the panel will discuss the problems that a writer and an artist encounter.

The panel awards prizes for the best stories, poems and drawings submitted by the students. These are all published in a handsome special fifty-page issue of the Fountain Valley Literary Review.

Cause of Crash In Which 44 Died Is Probed

William Bogart refused to allow relatives to view the remains.

"We saw the plane coming in low, flying in kind of a glide, with its left engine not turning at all," said David Silva, 21, who was washing his car when the airliner came in over his house.

"The right engine was making a terrible roar, revving hard," Silva continued. "Then the plane vanished over the top of a little hill, and at that instant we heard this tremendous explosion, like a sonic boom."

Aboard were about a dozen persons who had taken advantage of an offer by Reno Casinos to gamble all night in exchange for a refund of their plane fares.

And there was the Gospel song recording star, Miss Polly Johnson, 24, of Lodi, Calif., and the Rev. Lon Eakes, 88, Stockton, retired Presbyterian minister en route to Emory University in Atlanta for a reunion. He was the oldest living alumnus of the school.

At San Francisco airport, Dale Stopp wept. Years ago he lost both legs under a train. His mother, Clara Stopp and his wife, Judy, had helped him back to an almost normal life. The two women were aboard the plane.

Southern heritage," he said, "but that which is Southern is far less important than that which is American."

Johnson ended on a prayerful note:

"In his praise, and under his guidance, let us heal the fast fading scars of old battles, let us match united wills to boundless means so that, many years from now, men will say: 'It was at that time, in that place of free men, that the possibilities of our past turned toward the grandeur of our future.'"

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

RED GUERRILLAS — Gen. Andrew P. O'Meara, whose military command includes the Caribbean area, has told a House committee the number of guerrillas being trained in Cuba, the Soviet Union and Red China is "large enough to be really alarming."

"The basic training is given in Cuba," he said. "To a lesser extent it is given in Russia and a few people are trained in China."

A heavily censored transcript of O'Meara's testimony April 14 before the House Foreign Affairs Committee was released Wednesday.

Asked what he thought Communist activity would be like in Latin America in five to 10 years, the Army general said: "I think that we are going to win this fight in Latin America and the reason I think that is because if that continent goes Communist, I think we have had it. I think we have enough brains and resources and ability to win that fight. I think we must and I think we will."

PRESS FREEDOM — Rep. John E. Moss, who heads the House subcommittee on government information, has taken issue with a State Department spokesman's criticism of the press' probing into foreign policy.

The California Democrat said in an interview Wednesday that "the nation's foreign policy is endangered far more by lack of understanding than by exploitation by the press."

Moss said he disagrees strongly with the views as expressed in a Boston speech Tuesday by Robert J. Manning, assistant secretary of state for public affairs.

Manning said U.S. foreign policy is often handicapped by what he described as the unlimited freedom of the press to pry into and print government secrets.

The press, Manning said, "wants to know a great deal more than do the people in whose name it acts."

Moss said "my mail reflects a lack of understanding and a lack of information by people about foreign affairs."

"Anything we do to contribute to more public discussion," Moss said, "adds in the achievement of the foreign policy objectives we have."

ECONOMIC ADVICE — Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of President's Council of Economic Advisers, says he is growing weary of discussing his own deficit financing.

The former professor noted wryly at an Advertising Council meeting Wednesday that there had been some unusual public reaction to an announcement he may be forced to leave government because he can't make ends meet on his $20,500 salary.

In his mail recently, Heller said, was a $1 bill and an accompanying letter which began, "Dear Hellowell."

The letter writer, Heller added, went on to explain he had heard Heller wanted to return to the Midwest and the buck was a contribution to speed him on his way.

U.S. Army Captain Returned by Soviets

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—A U.S. Army captain who crossed into East Germany a year ago has been returned by Soviet officials. U.S. officials are investigating the case.

Capt. Alfred Svenson, 31, was returned to U.S. military control at Wartha Thursday. The East-West checkpoint is near Eisenach, where Svenson crossed into East Germany on May 4, 1963, while his tank unit was on maneuvers. The East Germans said he asked for asylum.

An Army source said "Svenson looked in pretty good shape" but he is being given a routine medical checkup at the U.S. Army hospital in Frankfurt.

Svenson, a bachelor, was born in Lithuania and became a U.S. citizen in 1955. His mother, Antonia N. Svenson, lives in Washington, D.C.

Laborite Prospects Reported Improving

LONDON (AP)—Heavy gains in local elections increased the opposition Labor party's prospects today for victory in Britain's general election this fall.

Results from all but three of the 358 boroughs that voted Thursday gave Labor a gain of 254 seats on borough councils, the great majority from Conservatives and pro-Conservative independents.

The Conservatives showed a loss of 132 Laborites won control of 10 towns, including the industrial centers of Portsmouth and Darlington.

Supplier Stays Atop Smokestack

By DAVID S. GRUBNICK
NANA, Okinawa (AP) — An he'll be fired for his long stay Okinawan climbed a 131-foot away from work.
Smokestack to deliver food and water to three sitdown-strikers—and stayed for 40 days. He was scared to come down.
Police guarding the base of the chimney said they would arrest me for trespassing when I came down, said Hidemasa Oshiro, 37.
He waited until before dawn last Sunday to end his perch. By then a court order forbidding the smokestack sitdown had expired and police had left the stack March 23 and Oshiro followed the U.S.-owned Okinawa Plywood Co.
The plywood plant is operating. Hidemasa is in a hospital ing more or less normally. The while doctors determine if he majority of its employees are not suffered any ill effects from being on strike. Veteran Actor Has Most Fun On Television

By the NEA
In his career, Gerald Hiken has appeared in 127 plays—120 off-Broadway and seven on, including his recent employment in "Foxy" with Bert Lahr. All this, plus several years as a resident actor in theatrical companies in Washington, D.C. and Erie, Pa.
"But the most fun I have," he says, "is in filmed television."
Most people remember Hiken most for his work on "Car 54," episode he played an orthopedic shoe salesman. Later, he played other odds and ends including one memorable role as a butcher.
"I don't like live television," he says. "Most actors do, but I'm a nonconformist. I think live television is too much work. And it's too hectic. All that effort and it really isn't worth it—do it once and it's over."
Hiken has one novel theory about television. He thinks the industry should stop trying to do good things.
When television tries to do something good," he says, "they fail more often than not. I mean when they try to do the classics or something arty. But some of the regular shows—like Naked City and The Defenders and The Nurses—are often very good."
The spontaneous aspects make it exciting. I've been in scenes where the director explains it once and then you go. The results are often fantastic—like commedia dell'arte—where actors would improvise lines from just a plot.

Families Get to Visit White House Conference

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's family-style news conference was Viet Nam mixed with "Pop Goes The Weasel."
The youngest of the 1,000 attendees—age 3 1/2 months—nodded sleepily as the President talked about peace Wednesday. The pink punch and cookies at the red and white striped refreshment stands were consumed in record quantities. Even the famous Johnson Beagles, "Him and Her," lapped up generous handouts.
It was like a gay summer afternoon picnic as the crowd straggled onto the broad green south lawn for President Johnson's 17th official news conference and the first to which wives and children were invited. The President brought his family too.
It's a productive profession, the First Lady's press secretary Elizabeth Carpenter commented as she looked at the massive turnout of reporters and their kindfolk. Her columnist husband and youngsters were there too.
The news conference itself—a half-hour performance in the hot sun—seemed of the least importance. Children cried a bit when it began and the scarlet-coated Marine Corps band ceased its gay medley that included "Pop Goes The Weasel," "Jingle Bells" and "Three Blind Mice."
The President asked all the kids to come up on stage and pose with him afterwards, without mommas and poppas. "They are always crowding into pictures anyway," he joshed.

In jovial spirits, the President said his 16-year-old daughter, Luci, had been so proud when she showed up to see her crowned Shenandoah Apple Blossom queen recently that he figured other youngsters might take pride in sharing a big moment with their parents who work at the White House.
"Will he do it again?"
"I haven't any plans to," was the President's considered reply.

Hanover News By MRS. RUTH CHISMAN

Several attended the chicken dinner at the Hanover School Tuesday night given by the High School and staff. A good movie of Colorado wildlife was shown, and greatly enjoyed, and it was asked where could anyone go to see more beautiful scenery than in our own Colorado mountains.

Mark and Laurie Huffmaster stayed with the W. D. Rebles' while Nettie attended a church meeting at Delta with her mother Mrs. Rose Williams, of Colorado Springs.

The Girls 4-H Club met at the W. D. Reble home last Thursday evening after school.

Ruth Chisman drove to Elliott and spent the day with Leola Chisman, while some work was done on the car.

Mrs. Veda Hyde was also a visitor with Leola that day. Scott Chisman and Lebron Hyde were setting out trees.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Reble, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chisman, of Hanover, and Leola Chisman, of Elliott, attended the Mountain View Electric Association meeting at Limon Saturday.

Don't forget the Project School Child meeting at Hanover School Thursday, May 7, at 8 p.m.

Homer Carpenter is at his home at Pueblo, but is still very ill. Clifford Carpenter returned after a trip home in the east to help care for his brother.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heid, of Penrose, on the birth of a new son recently. Lawrence is an employee at the Pueblo postoffice and Mrs. Heid has been teaching for some time in the Florence schools.

Hanover Church will take part in the District Rally at Peyton Sunday, May 10. There will be Sunday School at the Hanover Church, then leave immediately after for Peyton. There will be a basket lunch at noon, with a speaker, and a program in the afternoon.

T. J. Bruce, of Fountain, is still very ill in Penrose Hospital. Grace Finch is still in St. Francis Hospital, receiving tests and undergoing a study of her condition. Our prayers are with all these friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chisman and Dennis, Myra Woods, of Colorado Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chisman, Judy, Marvin and Ramona, of Pueblo, visited Ruth and Roy Chisman and family had gone to Cheyenne, Wyo., to visit friends made in Honolulu while Paul was stationed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chisman called at the Charles Chisman home Tuesday, April 28, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Paul Otis from Chicago. Mrs. Otis is a twin, as far as ages, of Linnie Chisman. The girls became friends as pen pals from Sunday School papers when they were small. Mrs. Otis has a very interesting coin collection and some other pieces from Panama at the Central Colorado Bank in Knob Hill. It will be there about two more weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Vette, Virginia Reble, Sevilla and Rosa Baker attended a Bible School teachers training class at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ganesins in Colorado Springs Saturday, May 2.

The Hanover Community Church folks are starting the ball rolling for inside toilets at the church. They will be installed later on. This church was truly a faith project and has been all paid for as each part was completed.

Rose Mary Montano and Rick Vette attended County Government Day in Colorado Springs Friday, W. D. Reble took them to town. Services were held at Hanover Church Sunday evening, May 3. There was special music and a message on, "Jesus Said, 'I am the vine, Ye are the branches.'" St. John 15, 1 through 8.

Harvard Students Stage Demonstration

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — What began as a raid on Radcliffe women's dormitories erupted into a noisy three-hour demonstration by nearly 4,000 Harvard students Thursday night.

The outburst was brought under control after the arrival of three Metropolitan District Commission police dogs and their trainers.

Police called for the dogs after Harvard's dean of men, Robert B. Watson, pleaded without success with the students to disperse.

Authorities said the demonstrators, good-natured and orderly until the dogs arrived, changed into a jeering and booing crowd. Police said bottles and firecrackers were thrown at the dogs and their trainers.

VIEWS ON DARK GLASSES

A few months ago I received a letter asking why some people wear dark glasses at night. I replied that the practice is silly and psychiatrists contend those who do so "are neurotics who are trying to hid or escape from the public."

A few days later an Indianapolis, Ind., woman wrote:

"I am neither silly nor ready for the psychiatrist's couch but I use dark glasses not only on bright days but at night. The reason is that I have had cataract surgery on both eyes and sunlight and auto headlights almost blind me. A friend who has diabetes also finds it necessary to protect her eyes in this way on extremely bright days."

Another rebuttal came from a Chicagoan, who wrote: "Your answer made me see red. Since 1937, I have had chronic eye infections and one eye pains when exposed to light or movement. In addition, I need dark glasses to hide the unsightly damaged eye."

The following letter came from an Alexandria, Va., reader: "People who wear colored glasses at night are not necessarily neurotic — just vain. I use contact lenses and sometimes wear dark glasses at night when it is windy or dusty. They act as a shield."

This person could use ordinary specs as a shield and I guarantee she will see better at night. I have no objection to tinted lenses during the day, especially when the eyes are inflamed or sensitive to strong light. Wearing them indoors at night is another matter. But, regardless of opinions, likes, and dislikes, never wear dark glasses when driving a car at night.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

Sticky Eyelids

G. T. writes: When I awaken in the morning I can hardly open my eyes because they are sticky. Can you tell me what this is due to?

Reply

Inflammation of the conjunctiva, the membrane that lines the inside of the eyelids, may be caused by infection, injury, irritation, or allergy. Yours sounds like infection. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on conjunctivitis.

Wants Positive Girl

John writes: My blood is Rh positive and I am of the opinion that I should marry a girl with the same type of blood. Do you agree?

Reply

There is a good chance that you will, considering that 85 per cent of the population is Rh positive. I also predict that when you fall in love, your silly idea will be forgotten.

Can't Absorb Gluten

J. A. L. writes: Is sprue a condition of the stomach lining?

Reply

Sprue (adult celiac disease) is classified as a malabsorption syndrome. The stomach lining lacks a certain substance that prevents the absorption of foods containing gluten. This means the individual must avoid any products made from wheat, rye, barley, buckwheat, and oats.

Calcium After Fracture

M. B. writes: Will a high calcium diet quicken the healing of a broken bone?

Reply

No, but this mineral gives the bones at least one of the elements needed to encourage healing. A normal diet usually supplies all the calcium required for bone growth.

Leg Ulcer

J. W. writes: I have a varicose ulcer on the leg. Will removal of the varicose vein heal the sore?

Reply

Usually, if not, the ulcer is removed and replaced with a skin graft.

End of Beatle Infestation Not in Sight

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The end of television's current "Beatle" infestation is not yet in sight. Ed Sullivan, whose CBS variety hour seems to be a wholesale importer of Liverpool singing groups these days, has signed "Jerry and the Pace Makers" for a second appearance next Sunday and taped a third turn for use later on.

There is still another group to come over: "Billy J. Kramer and the Dakotas," which will appear on the show some time in the past three or four months," he said. "They are extraordinarily attractive with the younger viewers and we felt we should go along with it."

Precht said that it has always been the policy of the show to present singers and others whose record sales were at the top of popularity lists—which is where "The Beatles" and their British brethren are currently perched.

"In our minds, this British thing is something of a phenomenon which has been occurring for months," he said. "They are extraordinarily attractive with the younger viewers and we felt we should go along with it."

Baritone Worker Gives Free Concert

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Workers in a downtown office building went to the windows when they heard a rich baritone voice singing "Because of You."

It was John A. Giardina, a carpenter, giving one of his frequent lunch-hour concerts Wednesday for co-workers on a construction project.

Giardina, a onetime performer with the Buffalo Civic Orchestra, also sang "O Sole Mio" and other songs and arias.

Parents Smoke, Children Do, Too, Scientist States

WASHINGTON (AP)—One-third to one-half the high school pupils who smoke cigarettes never would have developed the habit if their parents weren't smokers, says a Public Health Service scientist.

Dr. Daniel Horn, a researcher who studied young people in Portland, Ore., reported Thursday to the National Conference on Smoking and Youth that the fact a parent smokes seems to establish for a youngster that smoking is approved and expected. A second important factor, he said, is an association between smoking and failure. His contention: "Losers" — those falling behind in classes — are more likely to smoke.

While Horn tied failure with smoking, Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, long a crusader against cigarettes, said "intellectuals" are in the avant garde of those who are giving up the habit.

The Oregon Democrat said she based this theory on the fact that many U.S. senators have quit cigarettes, and on a report of a 60 per cent cut in smoking among British physicians.

As she has before, Mrs. Neuberger said cigarette packages should bear "proper warning labels" and that development of less hazardous cigarettes must be stimulated.

The voluntary code announced by the tobacco industry earlier this week is an admission that advertising practices of the past have been improper," she said.

The conference was called by the U.S. Children's Bureau.

Johnson Offers Deep Insights In His Thinking

By ALVIN SPIVAK
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Back stairs at the White House President Johnson has offered some deep personal insights of late in moments of emotional fervor while speaking about his poverty program and other measures that are close to his heart.

Every night when I go to bed, he said in one recent speech, I ask myself: "What did we do today that we can point to for generations to come to say that we laid the foundation for a better and more peaceful and more prosperous world?"

That was said in his rose garden speech to a group of editors and broadcast writers visiting the White House April 21 as part of a State Department seminar on foreign policy.

The same day, he expanded on the same theme in remarks to the Disciples of Christ. His former, a picture of which is in his office to give him a citation.

"When I go to bed every night when I wake up, I call it the 'I opportunity house'."

"No one could look at that house and the way it looks, and not say 'there is still opportunity in America'."

The President, in letting people know that he understands his poverty program from his own experience, has ranged into other emotional recollections.

"What I know of opportunity and initiative and enterprise I learned from life itself," he told the chamber. "I started out at a dollar a day on a road gang, working for the lowest bidder. He tried to make up what he had left on the table out of us—and did. It was the best training I got."

In a meeting with some distinguished women the next day, Johnson said it hadn't been his mother's encouragement that had left on the table out of us—a road worker, or truck driver, or ditch digger.

You have one who has great faith in his country because there is no other of the 120 lands where a man could come from where I was to where I am, Johnson said.

I have a little house where I was born, the son of a tenant only 6 per cent.

CHICAGO (AP)—A group of girls appeared outside the Morrison Hotel Thursday carrying signs for donations for a campaign for Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican presidential nomination.

Two men also appeared there. They wore sandwich-type signs bearing photographs of Lodge and the legend: "Won't you help this man?"

When Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York emerged, one of the men asked: "Won't you help this man?"

Rockefeller, who was in Chicago to address the Executive Club, smiled and walked away.

Rockefeller is an active candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam, has been re-

Jeep From Airplane Falls on Powerline

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Suburban residents searched for almost an hour before they found the cause of an electricity failure Thursday.

When two employees of the city golf course located the trouble, no one believed them.

A jeep from an Air Force C-130 cargo plane apparently fell out of the aircraft and parachuted onto a power line.

A spokesman from the Tactical Air Warfare Center at Eglin Air Force Base said the jeeps are normally secured in the plane.

No one was injured. A power company spokesman said the lines were only burned.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

CASE 8458: Terry R., aged 17, is a high school senior. "Dr. Crane," he began, "you have quoted Dr. Paul C. Glick of the Census Bureau as saying a high school diploma is worth $49,000 more than the 8th grade diploma."

And each year of college adds an extra $25,000.

So, if I finish high school and take one year at Business College, does that mean I could earn $74,000 more the rest of my life?

If so, just where does that diploma show its worth?

DIPLOMAS ARE GOLDEN

Dr. Glick compared the earnings of people who held a high school diploma vs. those with only an 8th grade certificate.

And he did the same regarding each year of college.

That high school diploma thus assures the average high school graduate $49,000 more in future lifetime earnings.

And that $49,000 represents 15 brand new automobiles, plus a modern house with a good lot and garage thereon!

So anybody who drops out of school is actually jerking the financial rug out from under his future wife and children.

And if Terry will go on to college, even for only one year, he can add an additional $25,000 to the $49,000 that his high school diploma represents.

So try to get at least a Business College diploma or a year at Liberal Arts college.

For smart teen-agers don't sell out, like Biblical Esau for a quick job now at maybe $1.75 per hour just to buy an old jalopy!

For that $500 jalopy may cheat his future family out of $49,000, plus an extra $25,000 for each year at college.

And here's how that diploma and year at college pay off fast.

Suppose you see an ad saying "Help Wanted" and apply. But maybe 10 are in the crowd of applicants.

Suppose the firm actually needs only 10.

How do you think the company will pick those 10 most quickly?

Not by giving all the 100 an elaborate series of tests, plus personal interviews, etc. No, that would be too costly.

For it can weed out at least 80 of the 100 in 3 minutes and by these two simple questions:

(1) "How many of you are high school graduates?"

Maybe 50 put up their hands, so they are retained while the other 50 are diplomatically ushered out.

(2) "How many of you are college men or women?"

OPEN EVERY DAY FROM 9 A.M. TO 8 P.M.

Of the 50, suppose 20 now put up their hands. The other 30 are also ushered out.

Now those 20 are given special trade or achievement tests and may be weeded down to 12 or 15, after which each one may have a 2-minute personal interview with the Big Boss.

So your diploma and even just one year of college will let you skip over those two major hurdles. Then you get a chance to show your stuff, which the other 80 missed.

Alas, many of those 80 without diplomas might have been excellent workers and even smarter than some of the high school graduates.

But in this high speed age, management can't take time for alibis or explanations!

So send for my "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a long, stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Use it to get ready for college entrance!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Two Boys Drown As Rowboat Sinks in Canal

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Two boys drowned when their rowboat sank in an inland waterway Thursday, despite a desperate effort by a rescuer to hold them up.

The struggling rescuer lost both boys in view of a small crowd that was watching from shore about 50 yards away.

The boys were Joseph McCabe Jr., 10, and Michael Gerner, who would have celebrated his 10th birthday today. Both were fourth-graders at Our Lady Star-of-the-Sea parochial school in Atlantic City, which did not hold classes Thursday in celebration of Ascension Day.

Louis Knauff, 35, of Bargaintown, who was passing the scene in a car, spotted the boys as they shouted for help from their sinking boat.

Knauff reached the boat just as it went under. He grabbed the boys by their clothing, one hand for each, and held them up for several minutes, he said.

On shore, two gas station attendants launched a rowboat. Knauff said one of the boys struggled so hard that he slipped out of the man's grasp and sank.

"I wrapped my legs about the other boy's body and attempted to swim ashore but he got away and disappeared," the weary Knauff said afterward.

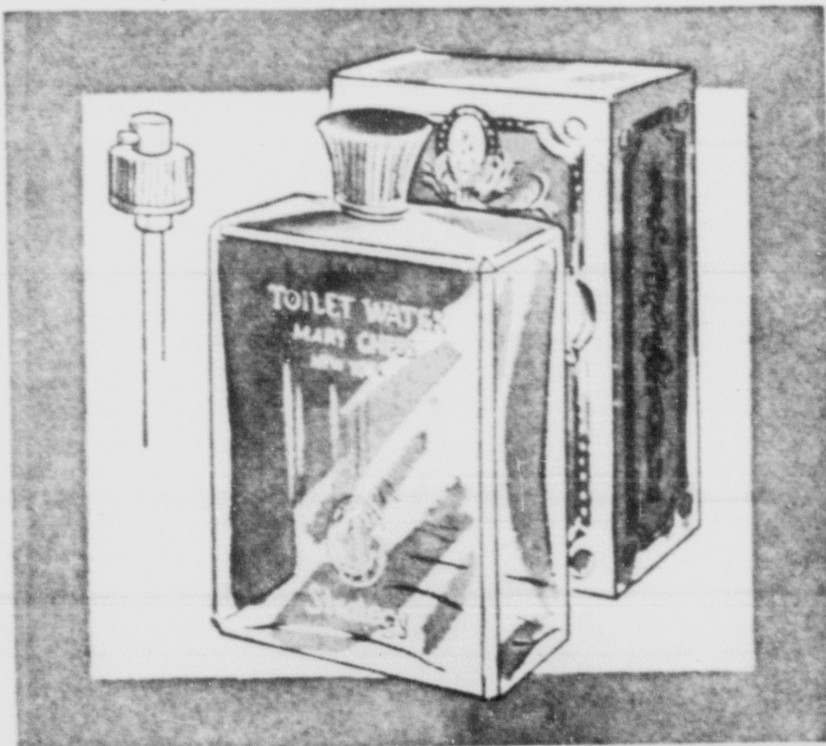

The gas station attendants reached Knauff and rowed him back.

Transportation Measures May Be Revived

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite previous setbacks and more obstacles ahead, House leaders hope to revive soon two major administration measures dealing with local and long distance transportation.

They are more optimistic about their chances with an urban mass transit bill already passed by the Senate and now bottled up in the House Rules Committee.

Committee members agree that the bill will be cleared for a House vote if and when a pose count of potential supporters indicates a fair chance of passage.

Currently the measure is scheduled to reach the House floor late this month.

It would set up a $500-million program designed to help untangle urban transportation snarls over a three-year period. The money would be used for outright grants to help cities and other public bodies buy transportation equipment. It would be parceled out at the rate of $100 million the first year and $200 million each of the following two years.

As passed by the Senate more than a year ago, the bill carried a $750-million price tag, $37 million for grants to public bodies and $375 million in loan guarantees.

The long distance transportation bill twice has been rejected by the House Rules Committee, the most recent setback being by an 8-7 vote.

However, the rules committee chairman, Howard W. Smith, D-Va., said he expects another effort will be made soon to win clearance for floor consideration.

The bill would relax some government controls over railroad freight rates and allow railroads to haul farm and fisheries products at rates more competitive with other forms of transportation. At the same time it would tighten Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction over rates on bulk commodities hauled by barge lines and other water carriers.

The administration reportedly promised the railroads action on the bill in exchange for settlement of the threatened rail strike.

Florence Moves To Aid Victims Of Sunday Fire

The Florence Chamber of Commerce office is acting as collection agency for those wishing to donate food, clothing, furniture or money to the David L. Miller family whose home was completely destroyed in a fire Sunday afternoon.

Miller, a farmer and dairyman, reported that the family was able to save nothing from the fire that was reported to exceed $10,000 in damage.

A few items of clothing were pulled from a bedroom closet, but were so badly scorched as to be unusable.

The Millers have four children: Sandra, age 13, Danny, 12, Jeanne, 10, and David, four years of age.

The fire was reported to the Florence fire department at 3:45 when a passerby saw the smoke from the Portland highway and went to investigate. At that time, it was reported the interior of the home was already badly damaged.

Mrs. Miller and the children were attending the Blossom Day parade in Canon City and Miller was working on a farm near Florence at the time and no cause has been determined for the outbreak of the fire.

The Miller home, located 1/4 mile east and 1/4 mile south of the overpass on highway 120, was insured for $4,000 with a small insurance policy on the furniture.

Jim Meyers, assistant district fire chief, directed the 18 Florence volunteer firemen who answered the call, and stayed to fight the blaze until 6:45 p.m. One fireman from two barrels of water was left on the scene until 8 that evening.

The Miller family is presently housed in two house and camping trailers that Miller was able to borrow.

Anyone wishing to donate items of food, clothing, bedding, furniture or money to the Miller family should contact Anthony Scutti, secretary of the Florence COC, who has volunteered to act as collection agent. The chamber of commerce telephone number is 784-3544.

Election Office Open Saturday

The El Paso County Election office, located on the first floor of the County Office Building, will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the request of local officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mrs. Virginia Goodsell, supervisor of the election department, said that although there will be no branch voter registrations at shopping centers and other locations this year, the office will open on Saturdays at the request of organizations like the NAACP, civic and service clubs who wish to register specific groups of people who do not have the opportunity to register during regular office hours.

Those organizations wishing to request that the office remain open on a specific date should contact Mrs. Goodsell at the County Office Building to make arrangements.

The election supervisor said that while the office would be opened this Saturday at the request of the NAACP, any person who desires to do so may register.

She emphasized the importance of registering now instead of waiting until late summer or early fall when, unless at least 500 persons register per day, beginning now, lines will be long and may often contain as many as 2,000 persons.

City Judge Lectures Youth On Reckless Driving Count

Municipal Court Judge Allan Asher Thursday compared the job of a police officer with that of a lifeguard in lecturing a 17-year old youth charged with reckless and careless driving.

The youth, Royce Foster, 802 Alexander Highway, works as a lifeguard at Wasson High School. Police Officer Jerome P. Busmeyer testified against Foster, charging him with speeding and cutting off two cars on North Circle Drive.

Judge Asher told Foster it was a police officer's job to protect the safety of individuals and

Driving Under Suspension Brings Man Fine

Tobias Lisanis Barela, 24, 1304 W. Kiowa St., was fined $35 and $75 costs by Justice of the Peace James F. Quine Thursday for driving while his license was suspended and not surrendering his license. The incident happened April 23 and the officer was Cpl. C. M. Maloney of the police.

John Erwin Stanicek, 22, 1229 N. Weber St., paid a $25 fine and $75 costs for hit and run. Maloney ticketed him April 28 at the Golf Acres Shopping Center.

One Defendant Found Insane In District Court

One defendant was found legally insane and two others sane after psychiatric examinations, in District Court Thursday.

The first was Louis S. Balliett, 28, 612 N. Walnut St. who pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon April 3.

Balliett is alleged, to have shot Duane Weldon Riedell, 20, 1535 Mesa St. through the leg with a .45 pistol on the 1300 block of Florence Avenue March 20.

According to the letter received from Dr. Richard L. Conde, the defendant has a "paranoid condition and serious personality disorganization and in need of closely supervised institutional psychiatric care."

The doctor continues saying the accused man is "so diseased of mind that he was unable to distinguish right from wrong" at the time of the alleged offense.

Max Kyle Meyers, 20, 629 E. Boulder St. was found legally sane by Conde.

Meyers has been charged with forgery and pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity March 20.

According to the information filed against the defendant he issued a $40 check with intent to defraud the Broadmoor Hotel March 5 signed "Thomas J. Gargan."

Dr. Conde said he has "abnormalities consistent with an epileptic type of disorder" which were revealed in 1958 when he underwent an examination at Brady's Hospital.

The letter also states the defendant strongly "believes in satanic influence and believes the devil may have been testing him and found him weak" when he committed the alleged offense.

Although the doctor believes the defendant to have a "schizophrenic reaction and a questionable brain syndrome" he concludes that he was able to distinguish right from wrong in respect to the offense of forgery.

The third defendant was Ernest Stedson Ross, charged with simple robbery and conspiracy. He has been found legally sane by Dr. Paul Draper.

Ross, 21, of Denver, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity April 17.

He is accused of stealing cash and groceries from the McCall Mercantile Palmer Lake, March 21, and conspiring with Ray Worthington, 47, and Michael Clevon Morehead, 18, both from Denver.

Worthington pleaded innocent to the same charges April 10 and is scheduled for trial June 4. Morehead pleaded guilty April 17 and will be sentenced May 22.

$5,000 Collected For Goldwater In Local Area

More than $5,000 in post-dated checks has been collected by the local Gold for Goldwater committee to be used by the Arizona senator in the event he wins the Republican nomination for president.

Robert M. Laura, president of the group, says they have reason "to be highly encouraged over the results of the Republican primaries held recently in several states."

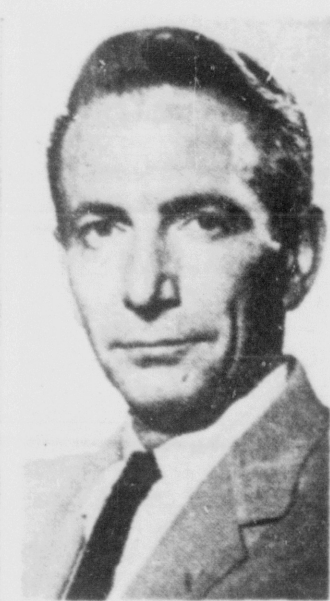

The 32 delegates from Indiana committed to Sen. Barry Goldwater increases the number to 264 definitely committed delegates. Laura said, adding many others are favorable to him.

"At this rate," Laura said, "Sen. Goldwater should definitely be a first ballot winner."

Laura cited the following figures of delegates already committed who are publicly committed to Goldwater: Arizona, 16; Georgia, 18; Illinois, 33; Iowa, 6; Kansas, 12; Tennessee, 6; Louisiana, 20; Massachusetts, 5; Minnesota, 6; Nevada, 6; New Jersey, 8; Virginia, 2; North Carolina, 25; North Dakota, 4; Oklahoma, 22; Pennsylvania, 3; South Carolina, 16; and Indiana, 32.

Many more delegates can be counted on toward the 655 delegates required for the nomination, Laura said.

The local Gold for Goldwater group is soliciting funds for current expenses at this time. Laura says the group is joining other Goldwater groups in the state in raising funds for Goldwater billboards. A telephone committee is contacting members and interested persons for checks for this purpose to be made out to "Committee for Goldwater" and dated currently, whereas the Gold for Goldwater checks are postdated July 24, the date of the Republican convention.

ALBERT E. BURKE

Albert E. Burke Winter Night Club Speaker

Albert E. Burke, producer of television and radio programs, author and authority on conservation, geography, geopolitics and world affairs, will speak at the final spring meeting of the Winter Night Club next Tuesday night in the Broadmoor Hotel Ballroom. The dinner meeting will begin at 7 p.m.

Burke's new television series, "Probe," is now being shown in 40 markets throughout the country, and in October, 1962, he began a five-minute daily radio program for the American Broadcasting Co.

Dr. Burke was educational television consultant for the National Broadcasting Co., presenting the award-winning series, "Survival," starting in 1957, and in 1960 he became associated with the Metropolitan Broadcasting Co. in New York, presenting a Sunday evening program titled "A Way of Thinking," which was shown both in New York and Washington as well as 40 other cities.

Entire programs from "A Way of Thinking" have been printed in the Congressional Record and he has appeared on several coast-to-coast TV programs.

His book, "Enough Good Men — A Way of Thinking" was released in November, 1962, with the Saturday Evening Post presenting one chapter in its Nov. 24, 1962, issue.

After receiving BA and MA degrees from the University of California and a PhD in international relations from the University of Pennsylvania, he held the post of director of graduate studies in conservation and resource use at Yale University from 1951 to 1957. He is a former director of the American Institute of Research Economics and former consultant in industrial development for the Connecticut Light and Power Co.

He and his wife have spent considerable time working and living with American Indians in the Southwest. Sen. Allott's four alternates will automatically be moved up, all over this country as well as Europe. He lived for two years in Soviet Russia and has spent several periods of time in Germany and Czechoslovakia as well as in the Far East.

The two boys were nominated for the appointments to the Academy by Sen. Gordon Allott, who announced today that out of the 10 Colorado youths he had nominated for the honor, six studies in conservation and resource use at Yale University from 1951 to 1957. He is a former director of the American Institute of Research Economics and former consultant in industrial development for the Connecticut Light and Power Co.

Realtors Leave Springs for Chicago Meet

Two members of the Colorado Springs Board of Realtors, Inc., left this week to attend the board of directors meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in Chicago.

This is the first time that the local realtors have had two of their members on the national board.

Donald T. Weidman and Hubert E. Ingels are both past presidents of the local organization. Weidman has been a national director for six years and is serving his final year in office. Ingels was elected to the national office at the last State convention in September.

Weidman is also the regional vice-president from this four state area to the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers and is regional vice-president for the Institute of Farm and Land Brokers. Both institutes are part of NAREB.

The NAREB directors meeting convened Friday at the Drake Hotel in Chicago with business sessions scheduled every day, including Sunday, on through Tuesday. In conjunction with the sessions will also be a general meeting of all national operating committees.

Ingels, besides being a director, is also the national representative for Colorado to the Brokers Institute. He is also on the library committee of NAREB as well as the national convention committee.

Weidman is also a member of the management committee, real estate brokers, farm and land brokers and the realtors Washington committee.

Local Youth Named Merchant Marine Principal

John M. Randolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Randolph, 3845 Linda Vista Lane, has been named a principal to the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

Douglas N. MacDonald, son of Major and Mrs. James A. MacDonald, 518 Hackberry Dr., Security, was named an alternate.

The two boys were nominated for the appointments to the Academy by Sen. Gordon Allott, who announced today that out of the 10 Colorado youths he had nominated for the honor, six studies in conservation and resource use at Yale University from 1951 to 1957. He is a former director of the American Institute of Research Economics and former consultant in industrial development for the Connecticut Light and Power Co.

He and his wife have spent considerable time working and living with American Indians in the Southwest. Sen. Allott's four alternates will automatically be moved up, all over this country as well as Europe. He lived for two years in Soviet Russia and has spent several periods of time in Germany and Czechoslovakia as well as in the Far East.

Car Trader Winds Up With Stolen Vehicle

Bill Woods of Woods Motors, 1718 S. Nevada Ave. reported to the sheriff's office Thursday that he traded an older car and $1,200 for a newer car and discovered later that the car he received had been stolen.

According to undersheriff Doyle McCammon the incident happened April 3. The man who traded with Woods had Oklahoma plates on his vehicle and an Ohio driver's license application. The title and application were in the same name. Woods found out that the car had been stolen in Pueblo the same day it was traded.

Truman A. Hein was awarded $3,000 by a District Court jury late Thursday afternoon in the $36,198.30 personal injury suit he and his wife, Mary, brought against Wilbur Lee Baker.

Mrs. Hein received $300.

According to the complaint, Hein was crossing the intersection at Tejon and Las Animas Streets Sept. 9, 1963, when he was hit by Baker's car. It was claimed the defendant sustained severe and permanent injuries and was totally and permanently disabled.

Gamma Omicrons Hold Banquet At Broadmoor

Gamma Omicron Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority held a formal banquet in the Garden Room of the Broadmoor Hotel Monday in celebration of Founder's Day. The group then went to the home of Mrs. Aubrey Nally where Rita Ryan presented a Founder's Day message.

Each outgoing officer received a gold emblem symbolic of her tenure in office. Mrs. Nally, outgoing president, installed the new officers in a candlelight ceremony.

Officers for the 1964-65 sorority year are: Miss Rita Ryan, president; Mrs. Nila M. Lake, vice president; Mrs. Hazel Haffsmith, secretary; and Mrs. Betty Radovich, treasurer. Other members in attendance were Mrs. Doris Schlimmer and Mrs. Lillie E. Smith.

The final business meeting of the current sorority season will be held May 18th at the home of Mrs. Nila Lake.

For a crunchy texture for a baked fish stuffing, add some crushed shredded wheat biscuits to a soft bread mixture.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

For the past two years you have been telling my wife to use kerosene around the house, and I have had to buy it.

Since I buy it by the gallon by the time my wife gets near the bottom of the jug, there is sediment or black stuff in it.

To keep from wasting the remaining kerosene in the bottom of the jug—I put a paper napkin over the mouth of a small glass jar and make an indentation in the middle with my finger. Then I pour the remaining kerosene through the paper napkin and we have enough kerosene to last until I have time to go out and buy some more.

P.S. Now she thinks I am wonderful! Me too! —Fred S.

Dear Heloise:

We have three beds in our home, with blankets and quilts on top of each for the cold winter months. When spring comes around and it starts getting warmer, these blankets are no longer needed.

I found that I could put these blankets under the mattress cover of each bed. They take up no extra storage space in the summer, they are conveniently put out of sight and are out of the way for the remainder of the warm weather. —Gladys Ratkovich

Dear Gladys:

Did you know that some of these quilts could be put between the box springs and the mattress? Lot of people do this, especially those who live in small homes and have limited storage space. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Ever need an emergency slip cover for your sofa... the kind that makes a good double bed?

Try a fitted double sheet! It just fits and it's so easy to wash. —Mrs. O.A.S.

And it works, gals. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

A good idea for busy mothers (and the more children, the better the idea) is to buy a recipe file. On the divider cards, list each child's name. On this card keep a record of all the illnesses, shots they have had and when, and other important information up to and including their marriage!

I know there are baby books for this purpose but who keeps their baby books up? After the first baby, that is.

A file need not be as formal as a book and a mistake only means a fresh card. This card, with all the information, makes a nice gift to each child when he starts out on his own. —Helen Campbell

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

It Pays to Be Honest

DEAR ABBY: The boy who sits in front of me in History is very smart and gets 100's on almost all his tests. I was stuck during a test last week and asked him for some answers. He gave them to me. I thought I didn't know it until we got our papers back. He got 100 and I got 65. I was plenty mad and told him I thought he was a dirty cheat. I admit I wasn't very honest to ask him for the answers, but don't you think he was twice as dishonest to have purposely given them to me wrong? —CHEATED

DEAR CHEATED: Don't expect to find an honest partner for a crooked deal. DEAR ABBY: Last night I served blueberry pie for dessert and my husband, whom I shall call Dr. Jekyll, turned into a regular Mr. Hyde. He stormed around like a wild man saying he never cared for blueberry pie because it took him two women of 42 to get a cornucopia of seeds out of his plump out of her husband. I teeth and asked why I insist have spent hours in the beauty on shaving it down his throat, parlor getting a new hair-do. No, Abby, I have been baking blue-comment. I bought material and berry pie for 26 years (it's my made myself a beautiful outfit favorite) and I always thought in his favorite color—blue. No my husband liked it. I felt so comment. I use cosmetics had I cried all night. Was I

Many top stores carry suede skins, of which it takes four to make a dress such as shown here.

Choose your skins carefully. Look for evenness in color, and avoid those with too many thin spots.

Select a plain shift pattern in your size, make any adjustments necessary to your figure in the pattern itself. Cut the pattern across at the halfway point or a little below to give a long-waisted look and to accommodate the pattern to length of the skins.

If necessary, cut a model pattern from an old sheet or muslin. Baste and fit this to be sure it is exactly right in size.

To cut the skins, be sure you run same direction in each piece. Lay front of skirt pattern or muslin on a skin that has been folded lengthwise, right side in. Place it 1 1/2 inches inside fold. This for ease in fullness. Place back skirt piece on another fold, also 1 1/2 inches inside the folded edge of the skin. Now the front of the skirt. Now the front of the waist and the back of the waist. It may be necessary to move the skins about under your pattern pieces to find which fits each skin the best.

Use narrow cellulose tape to secure pattern pieces to the skins.

Place back waist pattern piece 1/4 inch from the fold. This to allow for a seam for the 20-inch zipper in the center back.

Hold one hand flat on the pattern, while you cut with the other to be sure your cutting lines are true.

For stitching, use silk or mercerized thread, 7 to 10 stitches to the inch.

Put zipper in at this time. do ing this in the regular way. With a slender needle—a No. 7 Crewell is ideal—baste and stitch any darts. Baste and stitch the shoulders, underarm of the waist, the side seams of the skirt. Baste and stitch the waist and skirt together, easing in the skirt fullness.

Sheath made of Janice suede.

Try on your suede dress. It should fit perfectly. Check neckline and armholes to see if comfortable and becoming. Do any trimming away of skins that might be necessary.

Remove dress. Turn neck and armhole edges. You can ease flat fold bias binding on these edges, stitching one bias edge to the seam edge of the suede. Sew remaining fold of the tape down by hand or you can turn edges of suede back to place to the wrong side and use decorative machine stitching to hold the free edge, or you can use an even running stitch made with buttonhole twist, in imitation of a saddle stitch. This can be of matching or contrasting thread.

Some like to use fabric glue or rubber cement to hold turned edges to place, especially the hem. Fabric glue or rubber cement will protect your suede from stains which is important.

The waist and skirt parts are simply joined together with a plain seam on the wrong side.

Put brown wrapping paper on your pressing surface. Place right side of suede against this. Use a warm iron or wrong side of the skin. A cheesecloth or thin press cloth between suede and iron, even with only a warm iron, is desirable.

Once you have made a dress and see how easy it is, you may want to use the scraps left from the dress to make a band for your hair, a mad money bag or a belt for another dress. Your success can easily be encouraging enough to start you on a lovely blazer, a new spring suit, a weskit or a sleeveless jacket.

Just remember to select a simple design and to alter and fit the pattern to you before you cut the leather.

Be sure the pattern pieces are laid down precisely. Cut carefully. Avoid using pins so as to not make holes in the skins. Press only with a warm iron. You can make a suede dress for much less than you can buy one. Try it and see.

Flags Are Flown in Honor of Birthday

DECORAH, Iowa (AP)—Somebody flubbed and flags in honor of VE Day, the day of allied victory in Europe during World War II, were put up a day in advance, Thursday.

When people telephoned Bill Walker, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Bob Bernatz, street commissioner, they were told:

"Today the flags are being flown in honor of Sam Sande's birthday. They also will be flown tomorrow in honor of VE Day."

Sam was a member of the crew that put up the flags.

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — "I suppose she'll just have to outrank me for the rest of my life," smiles Nicholas Frank Taubman when he and his bride discuss their military life. Mrs. Taubman became a sergeant in the Israeli Army (Military service is required for all girls in Israel). "I only got to be a corporal," adds her husband, who saw six months active duty in the U.S. Army and then was recalled during the Berlin crisis.

The couple did most of their courting by mail, and practically spent their honeymoon at the American embassy in Israel. They met just two days before Mr. Taubman concluded a vacation in Europe and Israel. An eight-month correspondence followed before he returned to Israel. They were married and spent most of their honeymoon taking care of routine red tape necessary for the bride to leave Israel and come to the U.S.

Rockefeller Plane Makes Other Landing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's plane landed at Portland Thursday night when low ceilings prevented a landing at the coastal city of Astoria.

The New York governor, who is campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination, left by automobile for Astoria. He has scheduled talks there and at four other Oregon cities today. He will return to New York tonight and come back Monday for four more days of campaigning.

Oregon's primary election will be held May 15.

Family Dinner

When you are cooking potatoes, make some extra to use in this old-fashioned dish.

Sauerbraten Potato Dumplings
Green Peas Bread Tray
Fruit Salad Beverage

Potato Dumplings
1 cup cold mashed potatoes
3 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sifted flour
4 teaspoon baking powder
3 slices bread, cubed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix together the potatoes, eggs and salt. Sift together the flour and baking powder and add beat well in a heavy skillet, toast the bread slowly in the hot butter until brown and crisp, stir into mixture. Drop mixture in 8 portions, into 6 cups boiling water mixed with 1 teaspoon salt. Cover. Boil over moderate heat for 15 minutes without lifting cover. Drain. Cool, refrigerate. At serving time, slice and brown in hot butter.

Here's Roast Duck, Spanish Style

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We talked with Senor Carlos Cortes at the New York World's Fair. He is chef of the internationally famous Jockey Club in Madrid and is now director-general of restaurants in the Spanish pavilion.

He gave us a recipe for duck Seville style and told us that duck is a very popular dish in Spain and that duck with oranges was originally a Spanish creation, not French as many people think. He said also that in Spain a very dry sherry is preferred before meals and that cream sherrys, mildly sweet, are served after meals. The proper toast when drinking is "salud", pronounced "salood".

Pato A La Sevillana
(Duck with Olives, Seville Style)
(Serves 6)

2 1/2 to 5 pound ducklings, cut up
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons flour
6 tablespoons Spanish olive oil
1 small onion, minced
1 carrot, grated
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon thyme
1 cup Spanish sherry
1 cup canned beef gravy
1 cup small pimiento-stuffed green olives, well drained

Few drops of lemon juice
Remove as much fat from duck as possible before cooking. Shake pieces in bag with salt and flour. Sauté in 4 tablespoons of olive oil placing as many pieces in skillet at a time as it will hold. Remove each piece when crisply brown, transfer to larger shallow casserole. Pour off all fat from skillet, add 1/2 cup of sherry, cook uncovered over high heat until reduced 1/2. Separately cook onion, carrot and herbs in 2 tablespoons olive oil until vegetables are soft. Add these to the essence in the skillet with remaining 1/2 cup sherry and the canned beef gravy. Bring to a boil, stir to blend well, simmer over low heat 5 minutes. Pour sauce over duck in casserole, bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 1 hour, or until tender, or, if preferred, bake in advance for 45 minutes, turn off heat, complete baking shortly before dinner is to be served.

If the latter, skim off any fat which rises to top before duck is reheated, allow 25 minutes to complete baking. During last 15 minutes add green olives, which have been well - drained then sprinkled with lemon juice. Just before serving, sprinkle minced parsley over top of duck. Serve accompanied by tender green peas delicately scented with mint and small new potatoes.

Claire Miller's Roast Duck
1 ready-to-cook duck, about 4 pounds
1 onion and 1 rib celery
1/2 of a 6-ounce can (6 tablespoons) undiluted frozen orange juice concentrate 2 tablespoons orange liqueur (curacao)

Insert onion and celery in duck cavity. Roast on a rack in weight and health - conscious fat is rendered, skin is brown and meat is very tender—about 2 1/2 hours. Turn duck if necessary to have breast and back evenly brown. Remove duck and rack from pan; quarter duck with poultry shears and keep warm. Pour off fat from pan; mix orange juice concentrate with drippings in pan over very low heat, stir in orange liqueur, spoon glaze over duck. Makes 4 servings.

Diet-Watchers: Try Non-Fat Milk

Cynics like to say that marriage makes you fat. This can be true unless the young bride decides regularly to plan meals that are moderately low in calories but at the same time adequate in proteins, minerals, vitamins and carbohydrates. Otherwise she and her once slender young husband may soon be putting on weight that is neither needed nor becoming.

Many figure-conscious young couples today use nonfat milk both in cooking and as a beverage. It contains considerably fewer calories, but all the protein, B vitamins, phosphorus and calcium of whole milk. Nutritionists recommend its use to losing its popularity as the traditional month of weddings, for Poole of Breckenridge County scored 72 points in one game fore eggs are set as much as and Rich Hendrick of Bristow desired, fold in cheese. Makes High got 65 in another.

(Makes about 1 1/4 cups)
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals
1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon instant minced onion
Dash pepper and Worcester-shire
1/4 cup grated Cheddar cheese

SHY BRIDES?

OTTAWA (UPI) — Is June losing its popularity as the traditional month of weddings, for the June bride more shy than her September sister? Canada's honeymoon capital, Niagara Falls, Ont., isn't sure.

Last year, the city's Visitor and Convention Bureau distributed 2,250 complimentary honeymoon certificates in September. In June, it distributed only 2,006.

Melt butter in saucepan; blend in flour and seasonings. Stir instant crystals into water; stir into flour mixture. Cook and stir until cheese is melted and sauce is smooth. Garnish with paprika, if desired.

Picture: Pink pepper, mint ice cream and rich chocolate alternating layers in a sweet buttery oats crust. Need we say more—except of course give you the recipe.

Peppermint Layered Ice Cream Torte
(5 servings)

Crumb Crust
1 1/2 cups quick rolled oats, uncooked
1-3 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1-3 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 pints peppermint ice cream, soft
Chocolate Layer

1-3 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
2 egg yolks
1 ounce (1 square) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees). For crumb crust, combine oats, sugar and butter thoroughly in shallow baking pan. Toast in oven about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Press 1/4 of mixture into an ungreased 8-inch square pan. Chill about 1 hour. Set aside remaining crumb mixture for topping.

Spread 1 pint soft ice cream over crumb crust. Freeze until firm. For chocolate layer, beat butter and sugar together until creamy. Blend in egg yolks and chocolate. Fold in beaten egg whites. Spread evenly over peppermint layer. Freeze until firm.

Spread remaining ice cream over chocolate layer. Sprinkle with crumb topping. Freeze thoroughly.

PEPPERMINT LAYERED ice cream is cool.

The suggested bidding:
South West North East
2♥ Pass 3♥ Pass
3♠ Pass 4♠ Pass
4♥ Pass 5♥ Pass
6♥ Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Queen of ♠

Today's hand proved to be a stumbling block to most of the North-South players who encountered it in a recent tournament. Although the taking of 12 tricks at a heart contract is more or less routine, only one pair succeeded in bidding the slam.

The South hand is a shade shy of the technical requirements for a demand bid—which calls for 25 points in high cards and distribution when holding a five card suit. The excellent texture of the heart suit, in the present instance, provides a measure of compensation, and an analysis of the playing strength reveals a reasonable expectation of winning nine tricks with this holding.

The South players who chose to open the bidding with one heart laid a neat stymie for themselves for, despite all kinds of pyrotechnics, on their part subsequently, they could not elicit any degree of cooperation from North who held what appeared to be a very mediocre holding. The final contract was four hearts or, in one or two instances, five hearts.

Most of the players who opened with a demand bid fared no better. North's response was three clubs. South rebid three spades and North gave a preference to four hearts. Perhaps the opening bidder should have taken further action; however, a contract of five hearts might be out of reach if North does not have the ace of clubs. In any event, South entertained no further ambitions and passed.

The only pair to reach the slam employed the sequence described in the diagram. Although North is confronted with a choice of responses, in most cases the superior strategy is to fix the trump suit first by raising partner. This permits a more relaxed description of other features later on. When South's four club bid became a cue bid designating first round control of that suit inasmuch as hearts had already been agreed on as the trump suit.

Over four clubs, South cued the ace of diamonds. North's five diamond bid announced second round control and proved to be the key call of the auction—for, once South is reassured concerning his weakness in that department, it becomes routine for him to bid the slam in hearts.

In the play of the hand, South had merely to ruff a diamond in dummy and eventually give up one trick in the heart suit to claim his slam for a top score on the deal.

Florence Council Talks Of Possible Cigaret Tax

In a busy session Monday night, the Florence council heard an appeal to reduce soil erosion at its water plant, discussed a possible cigarette tax on local smokers, okayed a plan to install an underground sprinkling system at Pioneer Park, and urged dog owners to control their canines.

Tabled until the meeting of May 18, was a proposal by Charles (Chopper) Price, representing the Pioneer Day association, that the city accept a deed to the former Eagles Hall which is being purchased by the Pioneer board to house a museum. The Pioneer board would like the city to accept the property, by contract, in order to assure the life of a proposed museum to be housed in the building. The Pioneer board has been raising money through private subscription to buy the building from the local lodge at a figure of about $1,500.

Former Mayor Jack McFall, another visitor at the council meeting, presented a petition signed by 16 residents of the West Mesa complaining about the heavy soil erosion and dust problem created by last year's excavations at the new water plant site.

McFall urged the city to use excess water at the plant to soak down the plant site and hold down the dust until landscaping can be completed. McFall asked for a definite council vote on the proposal, but Mayor Charles Cristelli turned the matter over to City Manager Frank Carochi to end the discussion.

Carochi reported that 60 evergreen trees will be planted at the water plant site this spring as a wind-break, and 60 more will be planted at Union-Highland cemetery. The 120 evergreen trees are being purchased from a Pueblo firm at a cost of $3 each.

At the recommendation of Carochi, the council agreed to use the recent gas refund money from Plateau Natural Gas company to install about $2,000 worth of cast iron pipe and fittings in the proposed underground sprinkling system. The city crews will do the work of installing the system.

In his report to the council, Carochi stated that reservoir No. 1-2 now has 26 feet with intake reports of 3 inches from Newlin Creek and 2 1/2 inches from Adobe Creek.

He also noted that considerable work is planned for the cemetery including re-seeding and the extension of the north-south fence replacement.

The city manager read fire, police, city inspector and fire department reports. Fire Chief Dan Friend showed 14 rural fire calls, mostly weed fires. The department is also buying 500 feet of new fire hose, Carochi reported.

Chief of Police John Camerillo's report showed 118 calls for the month, 24 traffic tickets issued, and $127 in fines collected. Dan Gonzales, water-sanitation superintendent, noted that 5,000,000 gallons of water was pumped at the filtration plant in April.

The city manager reported to the council that he has been in touch with the municipal league regarding the cost of municipal swimming pools and their operation.

Further study was indicated in this area.

A proposed contract between the city and the school district regarding the city's use of 300 shares of water was tabled for further negotiations with the district.

City Attorney Erick Roberts reported that property at Third and Santa Fe, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Soriano, is being negotiated for sale. The city, which has been seeking to tear down the two-story house on the property or have it pass into the hands of interested ownership, will delay condemnation action until further negotiations have been completed.

Roberts also received council approval to start work on clearing up some 82 outstanding sale certificates on local property dating back as far as 1902. The property in question was discovered by County Treasurer Francis Young. The city must now execute quite claim deeds to clear the old certificates.

Mayor Charles Cristelli appointed a committee of four, headed by Councilman Tom Wilson, to probe the possibilities of adding a 2-cent a pack cigarette tax by July 1. Others on the committee are Gale Decker, Roy Palmer, and Attorney Roberts.

In other business Monday night, Mayor Cristelli called for the cooperation of dog owners to keep their animals under control before the council is forced to inaugurate a leash law. Many dogs, most licensed, are roaming the streets and causing much property damage and nuisances, it was reported. However, Cristelli appealed to canine owners to keep their dogs at home and in yards before a leash law becomes necessary.

Janet Jagan Helps Hubby To Run Nation

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Janet Jagan, perhaps the most controversial woman in international politics today, looks like a slightly harassed suburban matron who has been too busy cleaning house to visit the hairdresser.

Certainly she can sound domesticated. "Little Cheddi was caressing you know," she says. "My husband isn't petty like some men I've seen. He'll eat anything I fix and never complain."

But life isn't that uncomplicated for Janet Rosenberg Jagan, 43, Chicago-born wife of Cheddi Jagan, British Guiana's premier.

She herself is a Senate member, minister of home affairs in her husband's cabinet, and general secretary of their political party.

Mrs. Jagan is in New York to present her government's case for early independence from Britain to the United Nations.

A white woman of great political power among a polyglot population of 600,000, mostly East Indians and Negroes in the tropical colony in South America, Mrs. Jagan has many enemies.

She has been called "the firebrand of communism," she denies ever holding party membership.

Mrs. Jagan arrived in New York earlier this week on her way home from London, where she had talked with Commonwealth officials.

She has taped her first U.S. television show, "Ladies of the Press," visited a medical school in Albany that is training some Guayanaese doctors, and seen an off-Broadway play, "Andre Gide's 'The Immoralist'."

Janet Rosenberg was studying at the Cook County School of Nursing in the early 1940s when she met Jagan, then an East Indian dental student at Northwestern University. She quit nursing training to marry him.

Scientists Probe Technology Culture Impact

TORONTO (AP) — The University of Toronto has embarked on a human research project to find out how technology affects culture and vice versa.

The researchers believe their studies may lead to a system for analyzing and manipulating humans for the benefit of mankind.

The program is under the direction of Dr. Marshall McLuhan, a communications specialist.

Its objective, says McLuhan, is to find out "how the things from English-speaking Canada we make change the way we live and how the way we live changes the things we make."

McLuhan says that with the computer it is possible to pre-experience any design before it leaves the drawing board.

He explained, "The designer merely programs (feeds) the computer with all the elements of his design. The computer has all the elements of the new design stored in the information on past sign performances of various designs. Thus the designer can develop a product that he knows the French-speaking Canadians and it produces a sum total of all the experiences triggered by public will accept."

'Pearl Harbor' Ambassador Of Japan Dies

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (A)—Adm. Kichisaburo Nomura, Japan's ambassador to the United States when his country attacked Pearl Harbor, died today after a long illness. He was 86.

Nomura and special envoy Saburo Kurusu received one of the stiffest tongue-lashings in diplomatic annals when they arrived at the State Department on Dec. 7, 1941 bringing Japan's rejection of the latest U.S. peace formula. Bombs had just begun falling on the Pacific outpost.

Seething with anger, Secretary of State Cordell Hull kept Nomura and Kurusu waiting 15 minutes in an anteroom.

They entered Hull's office smiling and bowing and handed him the Japanese note. He read it slowly, without betraying his fury, even at the sentence, "the immutable policy of Japan is to promote world peace."

Then Hull exploded, telling the two shocked envoys: "In all my 50 years of public service, I have never seen a document that was more crowded with infamous falsehoods and distortions on a scale so huge that I never imagined until today that any government on this planet was capable of uttering them."

Nomura, who had been assigned to Washington nine months earlier, repeatedly denied any advance knowledge of the attack which brought the United States into World War II.

"I must have been the worst-informed ambassador in history," he said on a visit to the United States in 1953.

U.S. officials generally accepted Nomura's denial and did not press for his prosecution as a war criminal.

A tall, soft-spoken career navy officer, Nomura was drafted for the diplomatic assignment because he was known in Washington as an advocate of peace with the United States.

Born to a middle class country family, Nomura graduated with high honors from the Imperial Naval Academy and became a full admiral in 1933. He retired from the navy four years later and became president of Japan's Peers School.

In the postwar years, he was a business executive. He was elected to the Japanese Senate in 1959, and he opposed the leftist campaign against the U.S.-Japan Security Treaty.

His health failed in recent years and he was under treatment for a brain ailment. He is survived by his widow and a son.

Cambodian Tank Knocks Out Viets

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A Cambodian tank knocked out a Vietnamese armored personnel carrier in a border clash today and captured the vehicle and its crew, informed sources reported.

It was not known how many men were aboard the M113 carrier or if there were any casualties. Such vehicles usually carry a crew of four and 15 soldiers.

South Viet Nam's strongman premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, said he regarded the incident as small and expressed hope that "it won't develop into anything bigger."

The armored carrier was reported hit miles south of Tay Ninh. It was part of an armored personnel company making a sweep along the border.

Palmer and Wasson resume their spirited cinder warfare Saturday as the fleet 1964 editions from the two local schools rule as almost prohibitive favorites in the South Central League track and field championships which are scheduled for a day-long run at Wasson Stadium.

For the first time since the SCL expanded to eight teams in 1959, the Colorado Springs schools threaten to turn the conference championships into their own personal squabble. If form charts compiled throughout the season mean anything at all, both of the local teams would have to flop badly for any of the other six entries to sneak through to the crown. Past performances in both big and small meet competition indicate that the Terrors and T-Birds should finish with some distance between themselves and the third place team.

Palmer and Wasson resume their spirited cinder warfare Saturday as the fleet 1964 editions from the two local schools rule as almost prohibitive favorites in the South Central League track and field championships which are scheduled for a day-long run at Wasson Stadium.

Palmer's 880 relay team and Wasson's mile relay quartet have approached the records in those events in previous performances but their chances of running below the existing times Saturday will depend on how their coaches plan to use the athletes. High school rules in Colorado limit a performer to four events and at least a couple of those relay members may be seeking points elsewhere.

Terrors Tackle Central In Last SCL Weekend

PUEBLO — The outcome of the South Central League baseball race will be settled here and in Trinidad this Saturday in a pair of key games involving top contenders.

Making their next-to-last visit to the Steel City will be Palmer's Terrors in a renewal of an on-and-off-the-diamond rivalry with Pueblo Central. That game is scheduled for 10 a.m. in Runyon Field.

But meanwhile in Trinidad, Centennial's Bulldogs will try to wrap up the SCL title in their final league outing of the season. Should Centennial win that one the race would be over with the two Colorado Springs schools, Palmer and Wasson, having to take no better than a runnerup role.

Palmer and Wasson both have their SCL finale next Tuesday with the Terrors coming here again to wind up against Pueblo East and Wasson hosts South at the same time. Both would have to win the rest of their games to preserve a chance of a title tie.

The Bulldogs, beaten once each by the Springs' teams for their only two league defeats, clinched at least a deadlock for the title by slipping past Pueblo Central on Wednesday, 11-9. But should Trinidad spring the upset this weekend it would necessitate some sort of playoff between the three leaders, providing Wasson and Palmer both win.

Centennial now leads the pack with a 9-2 record with Wasson a full game behind at 8-3 and the Terrors next at 7-3. Trinidad, holding the key to the race now, follows in fourth while Central and South are knotted with 3-7 SCL ledgers. The only other game this Saturday involves East and South in a battle for last place.

While the Terrors will be keeping an eye on the results from Centennial's visit to Trinidad, they will undoubtedly have their hands full just to stay in the race. The first time around against Central the Tribe took a 1-31 decision in Colorado Springs but the game was protested by Coach Ed Lesar on the grounds that Palmer's Tom Medlicott was making an illegal delivery. This was turned down early this week in a meeting of league officials, however.

There could be after effects of that protest lingering in Saturday's game, though, and it's a good bet that Lesar will have his Wildcats primed for an upset. This will be the final game for the Central coach as he is giving up coaching baseball this season after 15 years with the Pueblo nine.

Palmer's Coach Jerry Hughes said he would start senior Ted Jones against the Cats. Jones worked last against Wasson in Tuesday's 10-4 loss, but he lasted less than two innings and should be no worse for wear this weekend. Jones was tagged for only two hits by the Thunderbirds, but gave way to Medlicott while the game was still a 3-1 affair.

The Terrors never gained the lead, however, and Jones was handed his first loss of the season against four victories. Expected to be handy for relief if needed will be curve-balling sophomore Phil Johnson.

It was first thought that catcher Don Breeding had broken a thumb in the T-Bird encounter, but the injury turned out to be a bad bruise. He will not be able to play this weekend, though, and Larry Williams will be behind the plate.

Otherwise, Hughes is expected to stick with his regular lineup against the Wildcats. That would have the team's top hitter from among the regulars, Jerry Golden, at first base, and the next best in Chuck Reinking at second. Shortstop Ollie West is also in the circle of hitters over the 300 mark, with third baseman Gary Johnson just below the coveted mark.

Going into the last two regular season games, Golden paces the regulars with a .405 average and Reinking has a .397 mean. Golden also leads in doubles with six and is runnerup with runs-batted-in with nine. West is the top RBI man with 10.

In Central's last go, the Cats came within a whisker of springing the upset of the year and throwing the race into a near three-way tie. Against Centennial on Wednesday, Central spotted the Bulldogs a 10-0 lead and then started a comeback with six runs in the bottom of the sixth.

Centennial scored its 11th run in the top of the seventh, but Central finished strong by scoring three in the final frame and they had the bases loaded and they had two runs behind when the "Dogs ended the threat with a double play. Central's Marv Schuerman lined the ball back to the mound where relief pitcher Christy Bivin caught the ball and threw to third base to catch the runner.

Had the ball been a little higher and out of Bivin's reach, the league could have a virtual three-way tie into the final games. But now any stopping the Centennial title express is strictly up to Trinidad, which has beaten defending champion Wasson for one of its four league wins.

Pikes Peak League Track Rated Tossup for Quartet

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

With at least four teams potential winners, the 1964 Pikes Peak League District track and field meet should be a wide-open affair Saturday at Widefield Stadium.

John Shultz's Fountain thin-clads have proven successful in previous PPL outings thus far and the Trojans must rate as slight favorites to unseat defending champion Cheyenne Mountain in the Saturday meeting.

Air Academy High and Salida are strong contenders and the other five teams will make for a competitive struggle for individual honors.

Last year, the Indians won the District meet with Fountain and Salida finishing strong for second and third place respectively. Coach Tom McCord's Cheyenne aggregation will find this year's meeting the most competitive in the annals of the Class-AA event.

Should the Cheyenne squad win the District title, it would be a complete sweep for the school in all sporting events since last spring. The Cheyenne baseball team wrapped up its seventh PPL title last Tuesday to keep the supremacy streak in the league alive.

Based on this season's best performances, all but four of the 14 track and field records should fall. It's unlikely Saturday's results will surpass the established records in the mile relay, mile run, 100 and 220-yard dash.

The District Meet is slated to kick-off Saturday at 9:30 a.m. with the preliminaries, and follow that same afternoon with the finals at 1 p.m. There will be no charge for the morning session but tickets will be sold for the finals. Ticket prices: 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students and children.

Saturday's agenda field events (pole vault, discus, broad jump, high jump) begin at 9:30; track preliminaries (high hurdles, 100-yard dash, low hurdles, 220-yard dash) begin at 10 a.m. and continue at half-hour intervals.

The following is the schedule for the finals: shot put, 1 p.m.; high hurdles, 1 p.m.; 100-yard dash, 1:20 p.m.; mile run, 1:30 p.m.; 880-yard relay, 1:50 p.m.; 440-yard dash, 2:20; low hurdles, 2:50; 880-yard run, 4:20; 220-yard dash, 3:50 p.m.; and mile relay, 4:20 p.m.

Five places will be scored in each track and field event with the top four tracksters in each event qualifying for the State Class-AA meet which is slated the following Saturday, May 16, at the Adams State College oval in Alamosa.

Although all 14 events should be up for grabs and supply interest for the spectators, the sprints should be the highlight of the one-day affair. Bob Carter, Fountain's speed merchant, has been the consistent winner in previous events but the Trojan flash will receive competition from Cheyenne's Bob Richardson and Academy High's Rob Stockhouse and Brink Spear.

According to Kadet coach Chuck Pearson, there is a possibility that Stockhouse may be denied the opportunity to defend his titles in both sprint races. Stockhouse sprained a muscle last week during a PPL track meet at Widefield and the Big Blue speedster missed a duel meet Tuesday. Stockhouse set both the 100 and 220-yard dash records last year by clocking 9.9 in the century and 22.1 in the longer race.

With the exception of the pole vault, the Cheyenne group should dominate the field events. Ron Graham and big Rick Stowell are the solid favorites to win the other four field events.

Stowell has been tossing the 12-pound iron ball over 35 feet and the 220-pound Cheyenne strongman could establish a record in the shot put which would be long lasting in the Class-AA circuit.

And the Cheyenne All-State footballer has the best mark in the discus this season with a toss of 156½ feet. His best toss in the shot put was 56½ feet which set the record in the Pikes Peak Relays. The shot put record is 52-8 and discus mark is 151-2.

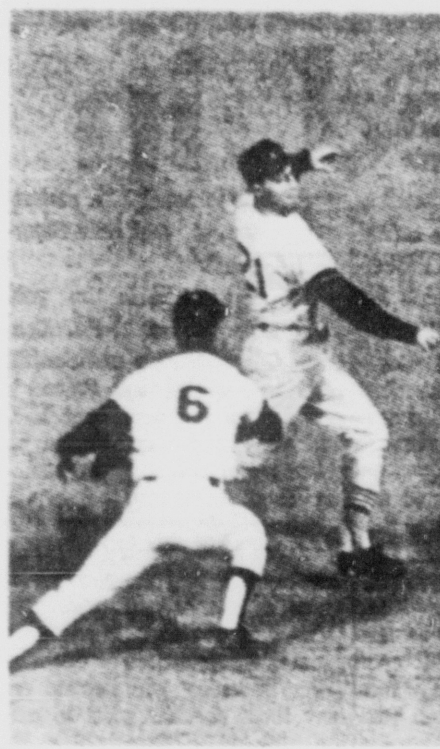

Graham also established a new mark in the Pikes Peak Relays when he jumped 5-11½ feet and the Cheyenne trackster has also bettered the District broad jump record (21-3) with a leap of 21-4½ feet. The high jump meet record is 5-10.

The pole vault event should be wide open with at least three vaulters capable of breaking the old mark of 11-7 feet. Manitou's Ron Smith will be one of three seeking the title including E. J. Dunkhorst of Salida and Fountain's Rick Dorer. Dunkhorst has the best mark this season with a leap of 11-9 feet.

Jackson Paces Mets' Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—If a team with a 4-16 record can have an ace, Al Jackson is it. Of the four games the New York Mets have won, three belong to the little left-hander from Texas. At that rate, Whitey Ford would win 75 for the Yankees.

Jackson went all the way Thursday to a 3-2 decision over Cincinnati, despite 10 strikeouts by Jim Maloney. It was the second time little Al had beaten Maloney.

World Champion Dodgers Suffer 13th NL Setback

By MIKE RATHET

Are officials of the Los Angeles Dodgers beginning to be concerned with the sputtering start made by the defending world champions?

That seemed to be the big question today following two developments—still another loss by the weak-hitting Dodgers, 2-1 to the Houston Colts Thursday night, and a trade report involving pitcher Johnny Podres.

Denied by the Dodgers, the report stated that Podres, who in his only appearance on April 25 was struck in the elbow by a Warren Spahn pitch and has been on the mound for only two innings this season.

"I know nothing whatsoever about it," said Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi. "I haven't talked to anyone on the Houston club. There's absolutely nothing to it."

The loss to the Colts was the 13th in 22 games for the Dodgers and left them six games behind the National League leading San Francisco Giants. The Dodgers are in front of only the Colts and New York Mets.

In all, the Dodgers have scored only 73 runs and hit only 14 homers—eight by Frank Howard. Maury Wills, who collected four hits against the Colts for a .309 batting average, is the only regular hitting over .300. The team is batting .235, eighth in the league.

While the Dodgers were battling their problems, Tom Haller's two-run single in the eighth gave San Francisco a 7-6 edge over the Chicago Cubs. Clay Dalrymple's two-run homer started Philadelphia on the way to a 9-6 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 4-2 and the New York Mets nipped Cincinnati 3-2.

In the American League, Cleveland walloped Baltimore 9-4. Minnesota crushed the Los Angeles Angels 9-1. Boston whipped Detroit 7-3 and the New York Yankees downed Washington 9-6. Kansas City and the Chicago White Sox were not scheduled.

The Colts scored in the fifth on a single by Walt Bond, a double by Jim Wynn and Bob Aspromonte's sacrifice fly. Winning pitcher Bob Bruce led off the sixth with a single and came around with the clincher on a sacrifice and Al Spangler's single.

Dalrymple, hitless in 22 previous trips to the plate, hammered his homer off Hank Fischer following a single by John Herrnstein, snapping a 2-2 tie. The Phillies took it from there. Herrnstein had a double and two singles for the night. Art Mahaffey, tagged for homers by Joe Torre and Eddie Mathews, needed Jack Baldschun's relief help before getting the victory.

The Giants went into the eighth trailing the Cubs 6-3, but singles by Jesus Alou and Willie Mays—the third hit for each—set up Haller's game-winning single off Lindy McDaniel. Mays' three hits lifted his av-

Jones Proves Offenhauser Still Tops

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The dinosaur is not extinct—not so long as it has a jockey like Parnelli Jones.

He booted it to 156 miles an hour Thursday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, where 150 was considered all but impossible until Jones did it two years ago.

The old front-engine Offenhauser race car, the Indianapolis roadster, was called obsolete—a dinosaur—by a lot of automotive engineers last year after spectacular invasions by European road racers Jimmy Scott and Dan Gurney in new rear-engine Lotus-Fords.

Jones did win the $500,000 Indianapolis 500, however, in the Agajanian roadster, and would have won it the previous year if a hydraulic brake line hadn't worn through.

The Torrance, Calif., veteran turned four laps Thursday, all clocked by electric timer, at 155.871, 156.002, 155.333 and 156.233. The official one-lap record around the 2½-mile track is 151.847 miles an hour, set by Jones last year in substantially the same car.

Valdez only yielded two hits to the home team as the Shamrock pitching ace struck out 11 Buc batsmen and only gave up one walk.

Pirates Dave Grantz and George Walker were the lone batters to get a hit off the Pueblo Catholic chucker and both scored on errors. Dave Grantz scored in the second inning on a passed ball by the visiting team's catcher and Walker came home in the seventh stanza on an error by the Pueblo Catholic shortstop.

The Shamrocks tallied runs in the last five innings to record the victory.

Averill's Late Homer Nips Bears on Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitcher Al Stanek knocked a home run over the left field wall for Tacoma's first tally and then held Spokane scoreless for a 2-0 victory in Pacific Coast League baseball Thursday.

At Seattle, veteran Earl Averill backed up five-hit pitching by Hal Kolstad with a homer in the eighth to give Seattle a 1-0 shutout triumph over Denver.

Elsewhere, Portland trounced Salt Lake City 6-1, and San Diego edged Hawaii 4-3. A game between Arkansas and Oklahoma City was suspended in the seventh inning because of a power failure. Dallas and Indianapolis were rained out.

The 20-year-old Stanek struck out eight and walked four in gaining his first PCL victory for Tacoma. A double by Hal Lanier produced the second Tacoma run after Stanek's third-inning homer.

Seattle's Kolstad pitched perfect ball for 4 1/3 innings against the Bears, striking out eight of the first 13 batters he faced. Then he allowed a walk and subsequently gave up five singles besides Averill's homer but holding tight in the clutch.

Portland pitcher Louis Tiant allowed the Bees only four hits, but two hooked up for a run in the fourth. By then, however, the game had been sewed up for Portland on a three-run homer in the first by Tony Curry.

Hawaii's Paul Schaaf broke a scoreless deadlock with a two-run homer in the top of the sixth against San Diego and the Padres. Cesar Tovar tied it in the bottom of the inning with a two-run homer. Hawaii went ahead with an unearned run, but Tony Averill snatched his 11th homer at the season with one out in the eighth inning to give San Diego the win.

Second-place Oklahoma City was well on the way to winning the Eastern Division lead from Arkansas when the lights went out in the 89ers' park. The game was suspended after 6 1/2 innings with Oklahoma City ahead 13-6. It will be resumed Friday night.

YMCA Softball Meeting Slated

The first meeting of the YMCA-Church Softball League officers will be held Tuesday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the main 'Y' building at Nevada Avenue and Bijou Street. Dutch Hammond will be League Director again this summer and it is hoped to have enough entries to set up both night and twilight leagues.

All interested churches should send representatives to the meeting and all persons interested in serving as team managers, coaches, umpires or in any other capacity are urged to attend this meeting.

A-State Tops Western State

want to drive the world's leading rally winner?

If you don't keep up with international rallies like England's RAC and the Classic Monte Carlo, you may not appreciate how solidly built a car must be to stand up to these tortuous endurance runs. SAAB does, year after year... and wins. Because of its unusual 2 stroke engine/front-wheel drive power system, SAAB consistently beats larger, more powerful cars. SAAB—a 5-passenger family sedan, not a sports car—takes more rally wins than any car in the world.

Needless to say, it performs like nothing else

What really matters is that the school administration in Colorado Springs has provided Coaches Hartman and West-bay with the opportunity to produce fine track teams.

Fans in attendance Saturday will find that the confidence has not been misplaced — nor has the coaching effort been wasted.

WON'T HANG CURTAINS IN MEN'S LOCKER ROOMS—The general manager has the run of most baseball stadiums but this one studiously avoids the team's dressing rooms. She's Mrs. Enid Cosgriff, only female general manager in professional baseball. Mrs. Cosgriff became president of the Salt Lake

Bees, Pacific Coast League, in 1961 after the death of her first husband, Walter E. Cosgriff, in an auto accident. She took on the added job of general manager last fall shortly before marrying Dr. Michael Murphy, Salt Lake physician. "I don't intrude in the men's aspect of baseball," she says.

Player, Jacobs Pace Colonial Golf With Only Sub-Par Opening Rounds

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Gary Player and Tommy Jacobs, the only sub-par shooters in the field, credited their success in the opening round of the $75,000 Colonial National Invitational golf tournament to accuracy off the tee.

Player, the 28-year-old South African playing in only his second tournament after a tonsillectomy, was out in front going into today's second round with a 35-33-68, while Jacobs was just a stroke behind with an opening 35-34-69.

It was the fewest sub-par opening rounds on the tour since last year's National Open when only two players cracked par, but it wasn't the worst looking Colonial Country Club's said Player. "I'd pick out a spot in the middle of the fairway and put the ball there."

There was a heavy sprinkling of front nine 40s among the scores, including those by Arnold Palmer (41-35-75), defending champion Julius Boros (40-37-77) and 20 others in the field of 72.

Tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus barely escaped this fate with a 39-36-75 and was well back in the field.

Four players managed to match par—Gay Brewer Jr., Ray Floyd, Al Bessink and Jerry Edwards, but from there on the scores came in clusters with eight players at 71, seven at 72 including five-times Colonial champ Ben Hogan, the same number at 73 and nine with 74s.

HIS ENGLISH HELPED — Gary Player uses body English to help sink a seven-foot putt on the 18th green to become the first round leader in the $75,000 Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament with a two under-par 68 at Fort Worth, Thursday.

Oliva Paces Twins' Victory

By LEW FERGUSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Baseball men are starting to call Tony Oliva a left-handed hitting Henry Aaron, and based on the Cuban rookie's auspicious debut in the American League the assessment may be accurate.

Oliva made a believer out of Los Angeles Manager Bill Rigney by flailing Angel pitching for six hits in nine times at bat in a two-game series.

"He's a heckuva hitter, isn't he?" Rigney said after Oliva collected four hits, including a grand-slam home run and a solo homer and drove in six runs in Minnesota's 9-1 victory over the Angels Thursday.

"I never knew anybody that hit 500," Rigney added when asked if he ever saw a rookie slap a baseball like Oliva. "I haven't noticed too much he can't hit. It looks like we'll have to throw him spitballs and hope we drown him."

Oliva is a gangling kid, 6-foot-1 and 175 pounds. Yet he hits with remarkable power, like Aaron, Milwaukee's great hitter.

He's a spray hitter who hits the ball where it's pitched. His grand slam off first-hander Jack Spring—his first major league slam—was pulled to right field. His solo clout, off right-hander Paul Foytack, was poked over the left field fence.

He also notched two singles to raise his average to .427. In his last seven games, Oliva has collected 18 hits in 31 times at bat for a .581 clip. Over-all he has seven homers and 18 RBI.

Tony is an uncomplicated 22-year-old to whom the game of baseball is a simple thing. He just hits the ball. He doesn't care who the pitcher is; he seldom even knows the name of the pitcher he is batting against.

"I no care who pitcher is or what he throw," Oliva says in his broken English. That reflects his happy attitude.

Twins' Manager Sam Mele says the secret of Oliva's success lies in the fact that he waits until the last split second on a pitch, and he hits the ball where it's pitched.

Virginians Topple Chiefs

By United Press International

Roland Sheldon who pitched the New York Yankees to the American League pennant two years ago, is showing his old form for the International League's Richmond Virginians.

Sheldon, a 26-year-old right-hander from Putnam, Conn., threw a three-hitter Thursday night as the Virginians defeated the Syracuse Chiefs, 6-1.

Sheldon, whose record is 2-0 this season, lost his bid for a shutout in the ninth inning when John Sullivan touched him for a home run.

In the only other league action, the Columbus Jets downed the Rochester Red Wings, 7-3. Rochester scored its three runs in the fourth inning on solo home runs by Steve Demeter, Jim Liggett and Paul Blair.

Tonight's games will see Rochester at Columbus, Syracuse at Richmond, Atlanta at Buffalo and Jacksonville at Toronto.

'Putt-Putt' Golf Course Opens Here

Saturday will see the grand opening of a 54-hole "Putt-Putt" miniature golf course in Colorado Springs.

Putt-Putt, which is a member of a national chain, will be managed locally by George Kalber who is a member of the coaching staff at Wason High School.

The 54 holes, which are divided into three separate courses are located on South Tejon Street between the Bowlmor and a Safeway store.

Kalber said that the courses will have daily hours from 9 a.m. until midnight and on Sunday from 1 p.m. until midnight.

The local manager said a number of special events are scheduled for this summer. Included will be amateur tournaments each week, including one where the winner will eventually compete in a regional tournament for a 1964 Chevrolet.

There will also be tournaments of the Professional Putters Association. This group climaxes its season with a $30,000 National Tournament in Columbus, Ohio in early July which this year will be televised by Wide World of Sports.

Kalber said that every Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon will be designated as "Kiddies Day" with three hours of supervised putting and refreshments. Special group rates may also be arranged for parties by contacting the manager.

U.S. Open Golf Entries Near Record

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States Golf Association announced that a total of 2,380 entries have been accepted for the 1964 U.S. Open golf championship. The size of the field constitutes a sizeable decrease by comparison to the entry lists of the past two years.

The total of 2,380 entries is almost 100 short of the all-time mark of 2,474 who participated two years ago and also is 12 below last year's figure.

Only 150 golfers, including exempt players, will play in the tournament proper at the Congressional Country Club, Washington, D.C., June 18-20. Local qualifying will occur at 59 sites in the United States, May 25-26 and the sectional qualifying will be held June 8-9.

Included in the list of 21 exempt players are 1963 Open champion Julius Boros and the winners of the four previous years—Jack Nicklaus, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper.

The Los Angeles Dodgers were shut out eight times last year but only once June 30.

Canon City QB Club Turns Out for Banquet

More than 275 members and guests of the Canon City Quarterback Club attended the seventh annual club banquet held Tuesday evening in the Canon City High School auditorium.

The guests included 145 boys who have participated in interscholastic athletics with the Canon City High School Tigers during the 1963-64 school year.

The affair was the largest ever held since organization of the club seven years ago. The number of boys attending was also the largest ever.

Thurman (Fum) McGraw of Colorado State University's Special Services division was speaker.

Officers elected for the 1964-65 school year are Arden Wood, president, Ralph Stallman, vice-president, Dr. Jack Vance, secretary, and Lew Becker, treasurer.

Coaches of respective sports introduced the athletes to the group. Trophies won by the Tigers in various sports were first presented to the Quarterback Club, and then in turn, presented by Stanley Blunt, this year's Quarterback Club president, to the Canon City High School.

Army pitcher John Rogers comes from Anchorage, Alaska.

Luke Easter Still Active In Baseball at Rochester

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Big reer instead of 31. He's in the Lucious (Luke) Easter, who has been "bating left, throwing right" and hitting home runs for a living since 1933, says he'll play two more years to round out "an even 31 years of baseball."

Currently with the Rochester Red Wings as a player-coach and pinch-hitter (he's 2 for 4 at the plate), the former Cleveland first-sacker seems a bit hazy in mathematics.

The minor league office records show he was born in 1921, but names no day, month or home town. The Rochester roster says he first saw the light Aug. 4, 1921, in St. Louis.

But big Luke said Friday he's really 33, so he must have been born some 10 years earlier than the books state. Asked about that, Easter grinned and said: "Aw, that 1921 is just my playing birthday. I started playing with the St. Louis Giants in 1933—and I don't think I made it that high when I was only 12. I guess I was born about 1911."

And if he plays two more years, as he plans, he'll have a 34-year professional baseball career.

Eric (Red) Tipton is in his seventh season at West Point as Army baseball coach.

The Black Forest Men's Civic Association held its regular monthly meeting in Community Hall last Monday evening. The main topic under discussion was the zoning of certain areas of the Black Forest that are not as yet zoned.

Wallace Votes Pour Fuel on Rights Debate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace's showings in two state primaries have poured more fuel into the Senate civil rights debate. But many senators say they have changed few if any votes on the bill.

Both sides in the debate have used Wallace's vote percentages in Wisconsin and Indiana to try to bolster their arguments.

Thus Southern senators have declared that the Alabama states' rights advocate ran up amazing vote totals clearly indicating a revolt in the North against civil rights legislation and Negro demonstrations.

The bill's supporters reply that, if the two primaries were to be regarded as a test of sentiment on the measure, they would be more than satisfied with the 70 per cent of the vote Wallace's opponents polled in the two Democratic primaries.

President Johnson didn't seem impressed. At his news conference Wednesday the President noted Wallace's share of the total vote of both parties in the primaries, saying: "He got 24 per cent of the vote in Wisconsin and a little less than 20 per cent of the vote in Indiana. I wouldn't think that would be any overwhelming endorsement of a man's record."

In Philadelphia, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told newsmen Wednesday night that the vote given Wallace in Indiana reflects "much resentment against the civil rights bill." But he said the size of the vote did not surprise him.

Although in the Senate debate both sides voiced strong opinions on what Wallace's showings meant, their opinions expressed privately were not so positive.

One Southern senator told a reporter: "I doubt very much if these primaries will affect the final outcome on this bill. They may make it somewhat easier to adopt some amendments."

Twin Colt Births Reported in Texas

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — A Texas mare has beat 10,000 to 1 odds by giving birth to twin colts.

Dolly, who is between 15 and 20 years old, was delivered of the twins Saturday.

She belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sanders of Grand Prairie. Sanders, a psychology major at North Texas State University, served as midwife.

Sanders said both the colt and the filly appear to be 90 per cent legs. Each weighs 35 pounds, half the weight of a normal foal. A Grand Prairie veterinarian made the 10,000-to-1 calculation.

CATHEDRAL DISPLAY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Durham Cathedral, one of Britain's oldest and most historic major cathedrals, will have a dramatic sound and light display this summer, according to the British Travel Association.

From July 29 through Sept. 26, the hour-long presentation will highlight the Romanesque columns of the ancient Northern church. It is located on a cliff from which savage Scottish invaders harassed the early monks, who built it strong for defense.

The great sea-roving leather-back turtle measures from seven to eight feet in length and weighs from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds.

Johnson Shows Sudden Interest In Demo States

By JACK STILLMAN

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — President Johnson's trip to Georgia today, with similar visits by other national political figures, poses a question: Why the sudden interest in a state that always has voted Democratic?

Leaders of Democratic and Republican parties are taking more than a casual interest in Atlanta and its strategic location in the Deep South.

Once solidly Democratic, the South is showing the first signs of a real two-party system.

Georgia is the only state that has always gone Democratic in the presidential election.

As one seasoned observer said, "It's the advent of so many party leaders. It's similar in Atlanta May 28.

ply that the Republicans want Georgia and the Democrats don't want them to have it."

First to rush into Atlanta was Sen. Barry Goldwater, who rushed out again last weekend with the backing of most Georgia GOP leaders in his bid for the Republican nomination.

Earlier in the week, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, (D-Mass.) dropped in for a visit and received a standing ovation in both houses of the Georgia Legislature.

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will visit Atlanta next Monday. She will speak at Emory University.

And former President Harry S. Truman will address the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Atlanta May 28.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia said he sees no political significance to the President's visit to Atlanta today and Friday.

Sanders said a breakfast for the President and the state legislators Friday will be non-partisan, with members of all political parties invited.

J. B. Fuqua, state Democratic chairman of Augusta, has predicted that Johnson will carry Georgia by a larger majority in November than Kennedy did in 1960.

No Republican leader is making any claims except that the GOP will amass a healthy vote in Georgia.

Parliament May Ban Obscene Books

LONDON (AP) — Parliament is expected to give quick approval to a bill to curb increased sales of obscene books, magazines and pictures.

The government proposal, introduced Wednesday, would provide the same stiff penalties for smut peddlers as for publishers — up to three years' imprisonment plus a fine.

A loophole in the present law allows shop owners to escape penalty even after the material has been adjudged obscene. Authorities say much of the obscene material is coming from the United States.

Nixon Blasts Extremists on Civil Rights
OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Former Associates described the dinner in honor of Gen. Thomas S. Power by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Power is chief of the Strategic Air Command.

They are creating race hate which is endangering civil rights legislation, he said Thursday night.

Uncalled for demonstrations and boycotts have created "a wall of race hatred" in northern metropolitan centers, Nixon said.

Now this hatred has developed so that any law might not be worth the paper it is written on," he declared. "A law is only as good as the will of the people to obey it."

What we need now is to reverse this trend of hatred," he told a Brotherhood dinner during a speech in which he called for an offensive to create understanding and personal responsibility.

Nixon predicted Congress will pass a civil rights bill and that it will be a "meaningful law."

Chippewa Indian Will Have 120th Birthday

WARROAD, Minn. (AP)—Ka-KeeKaKee Sic, Chippewa Indian medicine man believed to be about 120 years old "after the 120 will have the first birthday of his life May 14."

Despite his age, KaKeeKaKee
Sic never was able to fix his birth date. But the City Council decided a tribute was necessary for the oldest resident of War-road, a town of 1,400 in northwestern Minnesota.

May 14 was chosen because records—some descended from

Indian legends—indicate that KaKeeKaKee Sic was born about 120 years ago "after the return of the wild geese" and shortly after the ice left lake of the woods.

"He'll never see 116 again, of that I'm sure," said Erick Star-ren, who came to Warroad in 1898 at age 13.

The old medicine man was moved to the rest home a year
ago. On May 14 KaKeeKaKee
Sic will have cake and coffee with him and other residents of the rest home.

Strength Test Won by Civil Rights Boosters

UNSYMBOLIC SYMBOL
ROME (AP) — The classic statue of the wolf with Romulus and Remus, long famous as a symbol of ancient Rome, isn't actually Roman at all. Experts say it was the work of Etruscan metal workers who were specialists in the art while Rome was still young.

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate sponsors of the civil rights bill have won their first test of strength but it was a close call. After four roll calls Wednesday night—one a 45-43 tie—the Senate rejected 48 to 43 a jury trial amendment to the measure. The votes were the first on many of the nearly 100 amendments offered to the House-passed bill since the Senate's sponsors, both Democrats and Republicans.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., leader of the Southern forces, said a variation of it is likely to be offered next week in an effort to reverse the outcome. I was disappointed in the vote," he said. "I thought we had enough to carry it. But the pressures were too great."

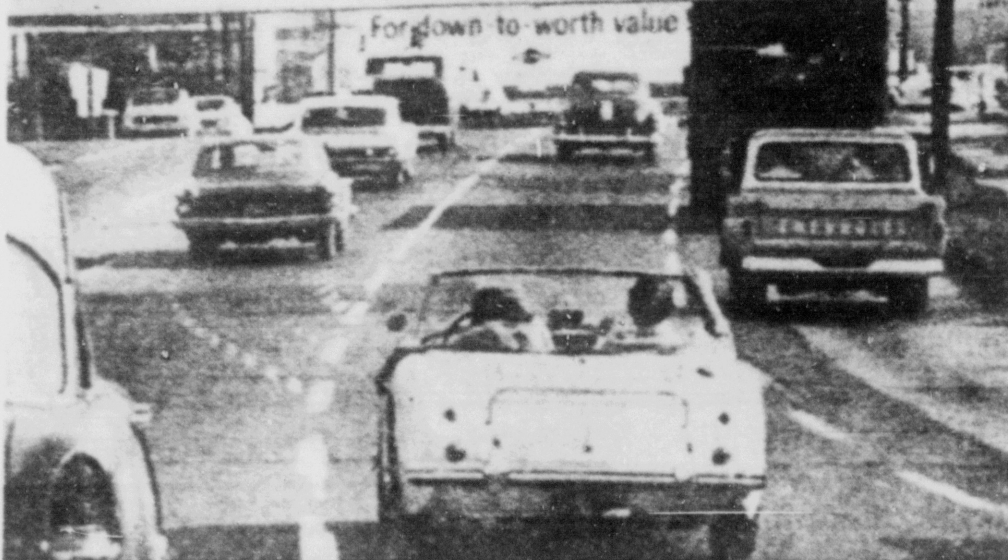

The vote was a bit too close for comfort for the other side. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, GOP floor manager for the bill, called it distressing.

The vote left as the Senate's pending business a limited jury trial amendment proposed by the Senate's two leaders, Democrat Mike Mansfield and Republican Everett M. Dirksen. Under this, defendants in criminal contempt cases growing out of the bill's endorsement provisions would be entitled to trial by jury only if the penalty was in excess of 30 days in jail or a $300 fine.

Just when their amendment will reach a vote was left up in the air. Mansfield told the Senate there was a possibility it would be voted on late Monday or early Tuesday, but he said no commitment had been obtained.

Southern foes can stave off a vote by continuing to talk against it. They can get a vote first on another amendment like Morton's if they offer one.

One of the earliest toll roads in the United States was built between 1790 and 1794 linking the 62 miles between Lancaster, Pa. and Philadelphia.

COOL CHIMP — Cappy, an 80-pound chimpanzee dressed for a top-down drive in a sports car, shushes a backseat driver-photographer — skeptical type — who accompanied her on a drive through morning traffic in Atlanta, Ga. At bottom, Cappy blazes a trail on a six-lane street while the photographer — still skeptical — follows in another car. Bob

Sloyer, the animal's trainer and owner who accompanies Cappy, says he controls the accelerator and brakes but that Cappy can steer and shift gears. Reaction from pedestrians and other drivers ranged from the classic double take to one man who remarked that the chimp "Can drive better than my wife." (AP Wirephoto)

Reporter's Wife Tells About White House Visit

EDITOR'S NOTE: Margot Cormier, wife of AP White House newsman Frank Cormier, dressed up three of their youngsters in their Sunday best Wednesday and took them to the President's outdoor news conference. This is her story of the big event.

By MARGOT CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — A whoop of joy came from 10-year-old Elizabeth, a hundred questions from 5-year-old John, a thoughtful silence from 4-year-old Billy.

My husband had just announced that you're all invited to President Johnson's news conference. He suggested that even the baby, Michael, would want to go—but he was over-ruled.

Wednesday—the big day — I hear much of what he said. got shoes polished and Sunday School suits out. Billy's jacket was dirty and I had to borrow one.

Naptime was a shambles. No one would sleep. We were in the car by 3:15 and on the drive into the city the boys rehearsed the greeting, "How do you do, Mr. President."

At the White House gate, a long line of mothers and children waited. It looked like Saturday afternoon at the neighborhood movie theater, except for everyone looking more dressed up.

Entry to the White House grounds brought a reaction of excitement mixed with relief that we had made it. The lawn was lush and green, the red-roofed Marine Band was playing.

We found the best seats we could, well in the rear, while waiting for the President to appear, the children made two trips for cookies and punch. When they weren't eating or drinking, they kept asking, "Where's the President?"

Johnson came into view and the boys jumped to stand on their folding chairs. John's chair seat collapsed and his latest cup of punch flew over the boy in front of us.

As the President made his opening announcements, Elizabeth sat engrossed. The boys wriggled and squirmed. I didn't hear much of what he said. The President recognized Dad for a question and the boys stood on their seats again.

"Daddy's up now," John announced. We couldn't hear the question and then John added, "Daddy's down now."

For the boys, the news conference was over. The children made another trip to the refreshment stand, although the conference continued. Then more wriggling and squirming — and questions: "Where'd the band go? Is that the White House? What's that on top of it?"

When the President invited all the youngsters to join him on the stage, Elizabeth took the boys in tow.

I saw them climb to the stage. Then they vanished in the throng.

I saw the President looking somewhat like the Pied Piper, and scores of other children. My own were out of sight.

Reappearing finally, they made yet another trip to the refreshment tent.

Elizabeth managed to shake hands with Mrs. Johnson. And all the children got to pat the President's Beagles, "Him" and "Her."

Everyone was happy.

Algerian Chief Gets Promises In Moscow

By REINHOLD ENSZ
MOSCOW (AP) — Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella left the Soviet Union today with a long-term loan of $126.5 million, part of it to be used for construction of a 300,000-ton steel mill of Soviet design and equipment.

Premier Khrushchev and his family were bound for Egypt in another move to bolster Soviet influence in North Africa.

Ben Bella left for Bulgaria after a 13-day state visit to the Soviet Union. He also will visit Czechoslovakia.

As Ben Bella exchanged farewell toasts with Soviet leaders in Moscow Wednesday night, Khrushchev boarded the new Soviet motorship Armenia at Yalta. Making his first visit to Africa, he will arrive in Alexandria Saturday to spend two or three weeks as the guest of President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Ben Bella and Khrushchev will meet again May 15 at the dedication of a bypass channel for the Aswan High Dam on the Nile. The Soviets are contributing $247 million plus engineering know-how to the dam construction.

Mounting assistance to Algeria and Khrushchev's trip to Egypt represent increasing Soviet efforts to counter Red Chinese and Western influence in Africa. Chinese Premier Chou En-lai toured Africa earlier this year, and the Chinese have been trying to exclude the Soviet Union from a conference of African-Asian nations in Africa next March.

The long-term credit of $126.5 million to Algeria follows a $100-million loan last year. But France is aiding Algeria with $480-million a year, plus considerable technical assistance. The United States gives Algeria about $20 million a year, mostly in surplus foods and commodities.

A joint communique signed by Ben Bella and Khrushchev said that the steel plant to be built in Algeria would have an annual production of 300,000 to 350,000 tons of rolled steel.

The communique also announced the gift of an oil and gas technical school for 2,000 students, with a Soviet faculty. It said 300 more Soviet medical workers would be sent to Algeria in 1964-65.

Ben Bella in the communique pledged support for Cuba against U.S. "imperialist attempts to violate her sovereignty," full support for Khrushchev's policies which have been denounced by Red China; and "fraternity and solidarity" between the Soviet Communist party and Algeria's National Liberation Front.

Florence Club To Hold Annual Gymkhana Sunday

The annual Florence Saddle and Roping club rodeo and gymkhana will be staged at the Florence rodeo grounds one-half mile south of the city Sunday, with the Southern Colorado Horseman's association queen contest highlighting the affair at 12 noon.

An SCHA approved rodeo, which annually attracts riders and contestants from throughout the Pikes Peak region and the Arkansas valley, the Florence rodeo will get under way in the morning at 10 o'clock with an amateur event for youngsters including junior horsemanship events for children eight-years and under, 9 through 12 years, and 16 years and under. There will also be a senior western pleasure class event, a junior reining contest, and a senior reining contest.

In this division, first place trophy is a belt buckle, while second, third and fourth place ribbons will be awarded. There are entry fees for each class, ranging from $1 to $5.

Following the queen contest at noon, the afternoon session will open at 1 p.m. with entry fees ranging from $3 to $10 per event.

Listed on the events this year are bulldogging, calf roping, team tying, junior calf roping, old men's roping (40 years and over), senior Washington pole bending, boys' barrel race, bending, boy's barrel race, girl's barrel race, men's barrel race, women's barrel race, junior barrel race, cowhide race (team).

Entries for the rodeo will be taken until 9:30 a.m. May 10.

Rena Miller, Rainbow Park, is queen of the Florence Saddle Club this year and will reign over the local affair. She will also compete with other girls for the coveted SCHA title.

Attendants for Miss Miller are Penny Sterling, Canon City, and Betty Wilson, Canon City.

In the SCHA contest, queens of the various riding and roping clubs in the association will compete for the title based on the judging of horsemanship, showmanship, and personality.

Rabid Skunk Found at Canon City
A skunk killed recently in Canon City has been found as rabid, Dr. Martin Baum of the Colorado Health laboratory in Denver, reported Wednesday.

The skunk was killed by Philip Mourey who saw it chasing his dog. The skunk was first noticed in the Earl O. Meyer yard at 220 Park Lane.

The skunk's head was sent to Denver by a Canon City veterinarian, who recommended that residents have all household and farm pets vaccinated against rabies.

Dr. Baum advised that if there was any chance Mourey's dog had been bitten, the dog should be put to sleep as a precaution to save the family a long period of jeopardy.

BEST ONE-DAY CROWD
NEW YORK (AP)—Queens County played host to its largest one-day sports crowd when Shea Stadium opened. A paid crowd of 48,736 saw Pittsburgh beat the Mets. Ten minutes away a crowd of 31,340 turned out to see the thoroughbreds at Aqueduct.

Exchange Club members viewed a 25-minute color film on the subject of Boy Scout survival training at their Thursday noon luncheon at the Embers.

The film, shot in 8mm by Richard Hanes, Scout Council explorer chairman, was narrated at the meeting by Scotty Kention, district Scout executive.

The location of the training course was Camp Alexander near Lake George and the program was participated in by 38 Scouts, 14 years and older.

Kention said that the course was completed during November of 1963 after several months of orientation work.

Kention also mentioned that this year's Scout-O-Rama was possibly the best show of its type ever presented in Colorado Springs.

John Stutts, Exchange Club president, announced that next week's luncheon speaker will be a military officer apropos to Armed Forces Day, May 16.

The Watutsi tribe in Africa believes its members were sent from heaven to rule—not work.

A BIG BOOK
NEW YORK (AP)—The Little Red Book of Baseball (Elias Sports Bureau, $1.50) gets bigger each year. This time the records of both major leagues, plus World Series information, required 158 pages.

The 39th annual edition also contains the members of the Hall of Fame and hitting and pitching records going back to 1901.

Hair-Raising Experience Is Every Night

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — She seemed like an average pretty girl, or perhaps a bit prettier than average. She wore a trim suit and a neat pillbox hat, with a few bangs peeking out and decorating her forehead.

The only thing was, when she took off her hat her auburn hair was done up in a steel hook.

This was the girl whom Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey are calling "Miss Chrys." She is the girl who hangs by her hair, juggling and dangling at the same time. This is the first time anyone has done this act, and she has created a confuror.

When her moment of truth arrives, she attaches the hook, which her mother has carefully woven into her hair, to a matching steel ring. Then she's hauled up into the air, where she juggles, cavorts, and otherwise shows off the strength of her hair and scalp. And then she is let down again.

"It hurt," she says, simply. "Mostly when I hook on and hook off. When I'm up there juggling, I don't think about it and so it doesn't hurt so much. But at the beginning and the end, yes, it hurts very much."

Chrys Holt is another child of the circus to make good with an act of her own. But there is no long Holt dynasty. Only her father preceded her as a performer; actually, he is with the Ringling Circus now, sharing the arena with his daughter as he hangs by his teeth and juggles. He is billed as Mr. Burt Holt.

Chrys was born in Germany, grew up traveling through Europe and Africa, went to school in Casablanca, Morocco, where the Holts settled down.

"I always wanted to grow up and have an act," she says, "but I wanted a different kind of act."

She rejected her father's act — "My teeth weren't strong enough" — and for a time danced on the wire with her brother. But that wasn't it.

Finally, she tried the hair act. She had seen a Chinese performer who hung from her hair, but did only that. Chrys decided to put two and two together — the Chinese girl's hair bit plus her father's aerial juggling. It took a few years of practice.

And then, in Germany, while she was assisting her father, he fell and was hospitalized. Rather than break the contract, she decided the time had come to debut her act. That was two years ago. In that time — short for a circus performer — she has reached the peak, a shot at The Greatest Show on Earth.

Chrys doesn't believe her hair and scalp are abnormally strong. It is, she feels, just a question of practice and good hair habits.

She is careful of her diet — vegetables, meat, cheese, milk, eggs — and her mother takes good care of her working equipment. There is a half-hour scalp massage daily, a half-hour of hair-brushing daily.

All this helps, but when she hooks on and begins to be hauled up by her hair, it still hurts.

Japanese Career Woman Violates Aged Tradition

By SEL ERDER

CHICAGO (UPI) — The belief that the Japanese woman is obedient, demure, timid, passive, piteous, servile becomes a myth in the case of Mrs. Hisoka Shiotani.

She's petite and proper. But she is a business woman also. A mother of two teen-age children, Mrs. Shiotani does not look more than 35 years old. She says she's 45.

She has spent the last 25 years doing what has become a part of her, managing a gigantic hotel in the scenic Japanese resort town of Atami.

Her second hotel in Atami — 60 miles from Tokyo — will be open to the public the first of May. This one is the largest resort hotel in Japan. It has 13 stories and accommodates 1100 persons.

The dark-haired Japanese woman, in the United States to promote tourism for her hotels, is full of energy, confidence and ideas on how she can become even more successful.

Mrs. Shiotani said it is unusual for a Japanese woman to have a career, especially in hotel management.

Her success story goes back another generation. Her mother used to own and run four "ryoteis," the Japanese version of American boarding houses. About 15 years ago, Mrs. Shiotani decided to build a hotel. She sold the small inns and aimed for higher horizons.

Her son, 18, is studying economics in Tokyo. She hopes he will follow her foot-steps.

"He will attend Cornell University after he graduates," she said.

TV AIDS NURSES

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Williamsburg Nursing Home has installed a closed-circuit television system to help give its patients constant attention.

A rotating television camera operates at the intersection of two main halls of the home and is monitored on a 19-inch screen at the nurses' station. The camera combines with signal lights and an intercom system to give nurses constant watch for patients who might need attention.

STAGE COACH TRAVEL

NEW YORK (UPI) — Europe's only scheduled stage coach service operates between Bad Kissingen and Bad Bocklet, Germany, according to the German Tourist Information Office. The five-mile run begins in Bad Kissingen daily at 2 p.m. and ends there at 6 p.m. Round trip fare is $3. Drawn by four dappled grays, the two-ton coach seats nine. Bad Kissingen, a popular spa, is about 90 miles east of Frankfurt.
